Example 2. 案例

Organized by the Chinese Seamen’s Union, the seamen’s strike of January-March 1922 began as a strike by about fifteen hundred workers.
Under the leadership of three seamen—Su Zhaozheng, Lin Weimin, and Chen Bingsheng—the strikers demanded wage increases of 30–40 percent to match the rises in the cost of living and that seamen be hired through the union rather than through compradors.
By the end of January, more than ten thousand seamen had left for Canton, where the cost of living was lower and where they were welcomed by the mayor, Sun Fo, son of Sun Yat-sen.
Although Chinese merchants asked the Tung Wah Hospital and the Chinese Chamber of Commerce to mediate, the negotiations soon broke down. 由中国海员联合会组织的1922年1月至3月海员大罢工，最初约有1500名工人参与。在苏兆正、林维民和陈炳生三位海员的领导下，罢工者要求工资上涨30%至40%，以应对生活成本的上涨，并要求通过工会而非买办雇佣海员。到1月底，超过1万名海员前往生活成本较低的广州，并受到时任广州市长孙中山之子孙佛的欢迎。尽管中国商人请求东华医院和中华总商会进行调解，但谈判很快破裂。

Lasting (v.) more than fifty days, the seamen’s strike was the “first real demonstration 示威；展示 in Hong Kong of the strength of the Chinese worker.”

When servants 仆人, clerks 职员；办事员, waiters, and tram 有轨电车 conductors 售票员 all left their jobs, 主 the privileged (a.)享有特权的 European and Chinese communities 谓 found themselves helpless.

Although any initial sympathy for the strikers eventually evaporated 消失；消散, for many Europeans /the strike was a sobering 使清醒的；使冷静的；严重的;令人清醒的；发人深省的 experience.

“It will have done some good,” 它会有一些好处 an English-language newspaper argued, “if it teaches (v.) us that /we are living in a wholly different world from that 后定说明 which existed (v.) before the war.”

Example 3. 案例
It will have done some good

Header 1	Header 2
► ChatGPT:	这里的 “It will have done some good” 看起来像个"未来完成时"，但它的味道其实比“未来”更微妙一点。英语里 "will have done" 有两种常见用法：① 一种是字面上的"未来完成时"（到未来某个时间点之前完成），② 另一种是"对已经发生的事情做一种推测或判断"。你的句子属于第二种，而且带一点修辞上的克制感。 先看语境。报纸是在评论一次已经发生的罢工。事情已经过去，人们在回头评价它的影响。按最直接的说法，可以写成： • “It did some good.” 但这样太直截了当，像是在宣布一个确定结论。评论文章往往喜欢稍微退一步，用一种“理性推断”的语气。于是写成： • “It will have done some good.” 语义其实接近：“看来它多少还是起了一点作用。” “它大概还是带来了一些好处。” 这种 will have done 表达的不是未来，而是一种"对过去结果的推断或判断"。 如果把句子完全展开成更白话一点的英语，大概是： It will have done some good /if it teaches us that we are living in a different world. 意思是：如果这件事能让我们意识到世界已经变了，那么它至少还是有点好处的。 这里的 if 其实说明：好处还不是确定的，而是一个可能产生的结果。 这就是为什么作者不用别的时态。 如果写 did some good，语气太确定。 如果写 will do some good，就变成纯粹的未来预测。 而 will have done 给人的感觉是：事情已经发生，我们回头推断它的意义。 又如：

Header 1	Header 2
	• “He will have forgotten the appointment.” 意思不是“他将会忘记”，而是：他大概已经忘了。 • “The delay will have caused some inconvenience.” 意思是：这次延误想必带来了一些不便。 所以这种结构, 用来不把判断说死，而是用一种理性推断的口吻说出来。语言像一层礼貌的缓冲垫，让观点显得不那么武断。
► Gemini:	这里的 will have done 使用的是"将来完成时"（Future Perfect），但在这种引言语境下，它承载了比单纯“时间顺序”更复杂的修辞意味。 will have done 的核心逻辑是：站在未来的某一个时间点，回过头来看现在发生的事情，并对其影响下定论。 它的潜台词：“虽然现在这场罢工让我们很痛苦，但等这件事平息之后，当我们未来回想起这段日子时，我们会发现它终究还是产生了一些正面作用的。” 为什么不用其他时态？ • It does some good. (一般现在时)：听起来像是在赞美罢工：“这件事现在就有好处。”（这显然不符合当时欧洲人对罢工的反感）。 • It will do some good. (一般将来时) 听起来像是一个预言：“它以后会起作用。”（语气比较生硬、单薄）。 • It will have done some good. (将来完成时) 最为客观。 表达一种“事后看来（in retrospect）”的总结感，语气更加委婉,且具有前瞻性。 语法层面的“推测”功能: 在英语中，will have done 有时不仅仅指代时间，还带有一种“想必已经/想必届时会”的逻辑推测意味。 例: • "I will have dropped it in the park."（想必我刚才一定是把钥匙掉在公园里了。） 这里的报纸评论也是类似：“这场罢工想必最终会产生一些益处吧——只要它能让我们清醒过来。”
► DeepSeek:	这里 will have done并非字面意义上的“将来完成”（即到将来某个时间点已完成某事）。相反，它是“推测性 will” 与 “完成时” 的结合，用于说话人在当下对一个已经发生的事件的结果、价值或意义, 进行推测、断言或评价。 为什么用“将来完成时”来评论过去？ 这是一种特殊的修辞性用法。说话人将自己置于一个假想的未来回顾点，从这个视角来评判当下 (或刚刚过去) 的事件。它暗示： “当我们 (在未来) 回顾这件事时，我们将会认识到，它 (到那时) 已经产生了好的影响。” • 肯定的推测：说话者 (报社) 确信罢工产生了一些积极后果。will在这里表示"高度可能性"或"近乎肯定"的判断，类似 must have done，但语气更委婉、更有预见性，而非事后的强力推断。 • 评价"已完成事件"的价值：这是在事件发生后，对其长远价值或教训进行评估。相当于说 “我们可以断定/有理由相信，这件事已经产生了一些好的效果。” 与其它时态对比: • It did some good. (一般过去时): 直接陈述事实，中性描述。

	• It has done some good. (现在完成时): 强调对现在的影响。 而 will have done 则拉长了时间视角，强调了其影响的持续性和"未来"可验证性。

The colonial government enlisted 谋求（某人的帮助）；征募，参军 the support of Chinese and Eurasian community leaders such as Chow Shouson, Lau Chu Pak, Robert Ho Tung, and Robert Kotewall, but these elites seemed more concerned (a.) about preventing labor unions from taking over 接管 their leadership 领导地位 of the Chinese community than with mediating 调停；调解.

Lau Chu Pak and Chow Shouson, the two Chinese unofficial members of the Legislative Council, insisted that /the strike was political rather than economic /and was inspired 激发；鼓舞 by "Bolshevism 布尔什维主义."

The two denounced 谴责；指责 the strikers as selfish 自私的 and ignorant 无知的, insisting that /the colonial government ban 禁止 all unions and not "retreat 退却；让步 one inch."

Example 4. 案例
我问: 这里 ban 和 retreat 为什么不写成 to ban 和 to retreat ?

► DeepSeek:

Header 1	Header 2
1.因为 动词 insist后接宾语从句时，需要使用"虚拟语气"。	动词 insist意为"坚持要求、坚决主张"，当它表示坚持某个要求、主张或决定（而非坚持某个事实）时，其后所接的 that宾语从句必须使用 虚拟语气。 虚拟语气的形式是：(should) + 动词原形。 在正式英语，尤其是美式英语中，should常常被省略，直接使用动词原形。 原句结构： ...insisting [that the colonial government ban(v.) all unions /and (should) not "retreat"(v.) one inch].
2.用 to do 的话, 语义也不准确	insist在此表示"坚决要求"（一个未发生的动作），这触发了虚拟语气的使用规则。不定式 to do虽然也表示未发生，但它常用于表示"(可做可不做的)目的、意图"或将来的动作，而不具备"虚拟语气"所要求的"强制性(必须做)"、主张性含义。 所以, 使用 to do 不定式会削弱"坚持要求"的强制性和正式性。虚拟语气 (should) ban 有"必须禁止、务须禁止"的强制性期望。

在翻译时，需要把这种"要求、必须"的虚拟语气含义译出:
这两人谴责罢工者自私无知，并坚决主张（要求）殖民政府必须取缔所有工会，且不得"后退一寸"。

这种后面必须用"动词原形"的虚拟语气, 除了insist 外, 还有哪些动词? 还有以下这些含有"建议/要求/命令/敦促"意思的:

- (v.) suggest, advise, propose, recommend, order, demand, insist, require, urge, command
- (a.) important, necessary, essential, vital (至关重要的，必不可少的), urgent, desirable (令人向往的，值得拥有的；可取的；性感的), imperative (极重要的，必要的；命令的，强制的；祈使的), mandatory (强制性的，义务的)

即: 虚拟语气有两种:

虚擬語氣 第①种：
用於表達"必要、重要、願望、建議、命令、要求"等非實際或不確定的情況。句中名詞子句的動詞,通常使用"原形"，即使其主語是第三人稱單數。
例如：" It is crucial that he be present.。

除此之外，不管虛擬語氣的主要子句的時態，名詞子句只用動詞原形。

以下列出使用虛擬語氣的常見形容詞：
- 重要的(關鍵的)：important, imperative, vital, crucial, critical
- 必要的：essential, necessary, mandatory (強制的)
- 迫切的：urgent
- 建議的(明智的)：advisable, wise
- 期盼與願望：desirable (理想的, 令人渴望的), preferable (更好的、更可取的)
- 評斷：beneficial (有益的), fitting (適當的), proper (適當的), right (正確的), good (好的)
- 建議 – suggest (建議) / propose (提議) / advise (勸告) / recommend (推薦)
- 要求 – ask / demand / require / request
- 堅持 – urge (力勸, 催促) / insist (堅持) / persist
- 命令 – command / order
- 規定 – rule / stipulate
- 偏好、期望、希望 – prefer (較喜歡) / expect (期望)

例:

- I suggest that you take a vacation. 我建議你去度假。
- He proposes that we meet earlier to discuss the plan. 他建議我們早點見面來討論計劃。
- She proposed that the committee consider a new approach. 她建議委員會考慮一種新的方法。
- She advised that he take a break from work. 她建議他暫時放下工作休息一下。
- I recommend that you read this book for more insight into the topic. 我推薦你閱讀這本書，以深入了解這個話題。
- It is important that he be on time.
- It is critical that they find a solution to the problem soon. 他們盡快找到問題的解決方案, 至關重要。
- It is mandatory that he report to the office by 9 AM. 他必須在上午 9 點之前到辦公室報到。
- It is urgent that they evacuate the building as soon as possible. 當務之急是他們盡快撤離大樓。
- It is imperative that the government act quickly to resolve the crisis. 政府迅速行動解決危機是迫切的。
- It is advisable that they reserve their tickets in advance. 建議他們提前預訂門票。
- It is wise that they consult a lawyer before signing the contract. 他們在簽署合同前諮詢律師是明智的。
- It is desirable that he submit his application early. 他最好儘早提交申請。

- It is preferable that you arrive before noon. 您最好在中午之前到達。
- It is fitting that they be recognized for their hard work. 他們因為辛勤的工作而被認可，是適當的(與期望、情境或常理是相符合的)。
- It is proper that he apologize for his mistake. 他為自己的錯誤道歉是適當的(與遵守社會規範、禮儀或行為準則有關)。
- It is right that she receive fair treatment. 她得到公平待遇是正確的(偏重於道德上或法律上的正義和公平)。
- It is good that we be aware of environmental issues. 我們意識到環境問題是件好事。
- It is beneficial that students participate in extracurricular activities. 學生參加課外活動是有益的。

虛擬語氣 第②种:
假設語氣 – “如果……會怎樣”的句型。有幾種類型，包括表示條件句，現在非事實、過去非事實條件與未來非事實的假設(實際上發生的事跟自己所說的相反)，根據if子句的類型，時態和形式會有所不同，可能涉及過去式、過去完成式、未來式等。

- I wish I were a bird.

Example 5. 案例

Lasting more than fifty days, the seamen’s strike was the “first real demonstration in Hong Kong of the strength of the Chinese worker.” 12 When servants, clerks, waiters, and tram conductors all left their jobs, the privileged European and Chinese communities found themselves helpless.
Although any initial sympathy for the strikers eventually evaporated, for many Europeans the strike was a sobering experience.
“It will have done some good,” an English-language newspaper argued, “if it teaches us that we are living in a wholly different world from that which existed before the war.” 13 The colonial government enlisted the support of Chinese and Eurasian community leaders such as Chow Shouson, Lau Chu Pak, Robert Ho Tung, and Robert Kotewall, but these elites seemed more concerned about preventing labor unions from taking over their leadership of the Chinese community than with mediating.
Lau Chu Pak and Chow Shouson, the two Chinese unofficial members of the Legislative Council, insisted that the strike was political rather than economic and was inspired by “Bolshevism.” The two denounced the strikers as selfish and ignorant, insisting that the colonial government ban all unions and not “retreat one inch.” 14

这场持续五十多天的海员罢工是“香港第一次真正展现中国工人力量的行动”。 12 当仆人、职员、服务员和电车售票员纷纷辞职时，享有特权的欧洲人和华人社区发现自己束手无策。尽管最初对罢工者的同情最终消散殆尽，但对许多欧洲人来说，这次罢工是一次令人警醒的经历。 “如果它能让我们意识到，我们生活在一个与战前截然不同的世界，” 一家英文报纸评论道， “那它就起到了一定的作用。” 13 殖民政府争取到了周寿臣、刘竹柏、何东和罗伯特·科特沃尔等华人及欧亚裔社区领袖的支持，但这些精英似乎更关心的是阻止工会接管他们对华人社区的领导权，而不是进行调解。刘竹柏和周寿臣这两位立法会的华人非正式议员坚称，这次罢工是政治性的而非经济性的，并且受到了“布尔什维克主义”的启发。两人谴责罢工者自私无知，坚持要求殖民政府取缔所有工会，并且“寸步不让”。 14

Colonial authorities, Chinese elites, and the European community blamed the strike on left-wing agitators 鼓动者；煽动者 in China, who have historically taken credit (赞扬；称赞；认可)为……而得到赞誉或认可 for this “first angry wave” of labor struggles.

Example 6. 案例
credit

PRAISE 赞扬

7. [U]~ (for sth) praise or approval because you are responsible for sth good that has happened赞扬；称赞；认可
   - He's a player who rarely seems to get the credit he deserves.他这个选手好像很少得到应得的赞扬。
   - I can't take all the credit for the show's success—it was a team effort.演出成功不能都算成我一个人的功劳，这是集体努力的结果。
   - We did all the work and she gets all the credit!工作都是我们干的，而功劳却都归了她！
   - Credit will be given in the exam for good spelling and grammar.考试中拼写和语法出色者将受到表扬。
   - At least give him credit for trying (= praise him because he tried, even if he did not succeed) .至少该表扬他尝试过。

   ——compare blame , discredit

But the seamen always insisted that /the strike was economic and not political (although this was a common justification 正当理由；辩护 for strikes, in Hong Kong and elsewhere, and Su Zhaozheng and Lin Weimin later joined the Chinese Communist Party).

但海员们始终坚称，此次罢工是出于经济诉求，而非政治目的（尽管这在香港及其他地区是罢工的常见说辞，而苏兆征与林伟民后来也加入了中国共产党）。

Example 7. 案例

我问: 这里 insisted that the strike was 中, insisted 不是虚拟语气吗? 后面为什么不用动词原形 be, 而用了 was?

► DeepSeek:

它揭示了 insist这个词的两种不同含义，以及随之而来的两种完全不同的语法规则。 核心区别在于：insist在这里的含义是“坚称、坚称一个事实”，而不是“坚持要求”。

insist有两个主要意思，分别对应两种不同的从句结构：

insist的含义	语法结构 (that 从句)
1.坚持要求 (提出主张或命令)	虚拟语气：insist that sb (should) do sth	坚持（要求）...必须做某事 (坚持要求 → 虚拟语气)： • The leader insisted that the meeting be postponed. 领导坚持要求会议必须推迟。(这是一个命令或要求)
2.坚称事实 (申明一个观点或事实)	陈述语气：insist that sth is/was ...	坚称（认为）...是... (坚称事实 → 陈述语气)： • The leader insisted that the meeting was unproductive. 领导坚称，那次会议是没有成效的。(这是一个观点或事实陈述)

如何快速判断用哪种语气？ 一个简单的判断方法是：看 insist后面的内容是否为一个可以“执行”的“动作”或“命令”。

- 如果是动作/命令 (如“禁止工会”、“推迟会议”、“加工资”)，则用虚拟语气 (动词原形)。因为这是在要求某人去做某事。

- 如果是状态/事实/观点 (如“罢工是经济性的”、“会议没成效”、“他是无辜的”)，则用陈述语气 (正常时态)。因为这是在陈述一个情况。

Governor Stubbs mismanaged 管理不善，处理不当 the strike by overreacting 反应过度 and insisting that /it was political and led by agitators 鼓动者；煽动者 in Canton.

When the seamen’ s union posted (v.)派驻;使驻守；布置...站岗 armed pickets （罢工期间的）纠察员；纠察队 along the coast /and seized food from trains on the Canton-Kowloon Railway, on February 1 /Stubbs banned (v.) the union as “an unlawful society 非法社团” that was being “used (v.) for purposes 后定说明 incompatible with 与.....不相容；与.....不一致 the peace and good order of the Colony.”

2月1日，当海员工会在沿海一带部署武装纠察队，并拦截广九铁路列车上的粮食后，施勋将该工会取缔，称其为“非法社团”，且被“用于与殖民地和平及良好秩序相悖的目的”。

Example 11. 案例

Colonial authorities, Chinese elites, and the European community blamed the strike on left-wing agitators in China, who have historically taken credit for this “first angry wave” of labor struggles.
But the seamen always insisted that the strike was economic and not political (although this was a common justification for strikes, in Hong Kong and elsewhere, and Su Zhaozheng and Lin Weimin later joined the Chinese Communist Party).
Governor Stubbs mismanaged the strike by overreacting and insisting that it was political and led by agitators in Canton.
When the seamen’ s union posted armed pickets along the coast and seized food from trains on the Canton-Kowloon Railway, on February 1 Stubbs banned the union as “an unlawful society” that was being “used for purposes incompatible with the peace and good order of the Colony.” After colonial police arrested some of the union leaders, closed down the union headquarters, and pulled down its signboard, written in the calligraphy of Sun Yat-sen, the union responded by beckoning all workers in Hong Kong to strike and leave for Canton.
More than one hundred thousand additional workers heeded the call, including the entire staff at Government House.
The Legislative Council retaliated by passing the Emergency Regulations Ordinance, which prohibited posters and public gatherings and authorized wide police powers for censoring mail and conducting random body searches.

After Stubbs stopped train service to Canton, on March 4 colonial police shot dead five workers and wounded eight more trying to leave on foot through Sha Tin, in the New Territories.

殖民当局、中国精英和欧洲社会将罢工归咎于中国左翼煽动者，历史上，这些人一直声称对这场“第一波愤怒浪潮”的劳工斗争负有责任。但海员们始终坚称罢工是经济性的，而非政治性的（尽管在香港和其他地方，这都是罢工的常见理由，苏兆正和林维民后来也加入了中国共产党）。总督司徒勃对罢工处理不当，反应过度，并坚持认为罢工是政治性的，是由广州的煽动者领导的。当海员工会在沿海地区设立武装纠察队，并在广九铁路上扣押火车上的食物时，司徒勃于2月1日以“非法社团”的名义取缔了该工会，称其“被用于与殖民地和平与良好秩序不符的目的”。殖民地警察逮捕了一些工会领袖，关闭了工会总部，并拆除了用孙中山先生书法书写的工会招牌。工会随即号召香港所有工人罢工并前往广州。超过十万名工人响应了这一号召，其中包括政府大厦的全体工作人员。立法会随即通过了《紧急规例条例》，禁止张贴海报和举行公众集会，并授权警方拥有广泛的权力，可以审查邮件和进行随机搜查。司徒拔下火车后，3月4日，殖民地警察在沙田枪杀了五名试图步行离开香港的工人，并打伤了八名工人。

Example 13. 案例

As historian Ming Chan argues, the colonial government’s measures helped to transform the strike “from an economic strike into an all-out political confrontation between British colonial might and Chinese patriotic pride and national interests.”15 Following extensive negotiations among the seamen, the shipping companies, and the Canton and Hong Kong governments, the workers won a settlement close to what they had demanded.
The colonial government agreed to lift the ban on the Seamen’s Union, release the arrested leaders, and pay compensation to the victims of the shootings in the New Territories.
The end of the strike on March 7 resulted “in a total victory for the Chinese seamen but complete capitulation of the British establishment, with its dignity and prestige in shambles.”16 As part of the strike settlement, Stubbs had to rescind his ban on the Seamen’s Union, while the same policeman who had pulled down the union’s signboard had to put it back up.
The strike also showed that the Chinese workers had become a class of their own, no longer relying on the Chinese merchant elite for support.
More strikes occurred in 1922, although few were as successful as the seamen’s strike.

正如历史学家陈明所论证的那样，殖民政府的措施促使罢工“从一场经济罢工演变为英国殖民强权与中国爱国主义和国家利益之间的全面政治对抗”。 15 经过海员、航运公司以及广州和香港政府的广泛谈判，工人们最终达成了一项接近他们要求的协议。殖民政府同意解除对海员联合会的禁令，释放被捕的领导人，并向新界枪击事件的受害者支付赔偿金。3 月 7 日罢工的结束“对中国海员来说是一场彻底的胜利，但对英国统治集团来说却是彻底的投降，其尊严和威望荡然无存”。16 作为罢工协议的一部分，司徒勃不得不撤销对海员联合会的禁令，而之前扯下联合会标牌的警察也必须将其重新竖起。这次罢工也表明，中国工人已经形成了一个独立的阶级，不再依赖中国商人精英的支持。1922 年还发生了更多罢工，但鲜有像海员罢工那样成功的。
