Example 2. 案例

The rise of Chinese commercial power and influence helps explain some of the constitutional developments of the interwar period.
In the 1910s and early 1920s, demands arose for political representation and more control over the colony’ s finances.
None of these movements, orchestrated mainly by Europeans, succeeded.
The Colonial Office rejected a petition for constitutional reform in 1916, and little resulted from the short-lived Constitutional Reform Association, founded in May 1917 and dismissed by Governor Reginald Stubbs in 1920 as a “farcical body.” 9 In 1919 a group of residents, mainly British and some of them unofficial members of the Legislative Council, pushed for more representation.
Neither Governor Francis May nor the home government approved of the demands.
Another political organization, the Kowloon Residents’ Association formed by a group of Europeans in 1921, pressed for more roads and public works in Kowloon as well as for a European reserve similar to that on Victoria Peak.
In 1922, Governor Stubbs rejected another petition for representation as coming from “a numerically insignificant transitory European population.” 10 中国商业实力和影响力的崛起有助于解释两次世界大战期间的一些宪政发展。在 20 世纪 10 年代和 20 年代初，人们要求获得政治代表权和更多对殖民地财政的控制权。这些主要由欧洲人策划的运动均未成功。殖民地事务部于 1916 年驳回了一项宪政改革请愿，而成立于 1917 年 5 月的宪政改革协会也昙花一现，于 1920 年被总督雷金纳德·斯塔布斯斥为“滑稽的机构”。 1919 年，一群居民（主要是英国人，其中一些是立法会的非正式成员）推动增加代表权。总督弗朗西斯·梅和英国政府均未批准这些要求。另一个政治组织——由一群欧洲人于 1921 年成立的九龙居民协会——则要求在九龙修建更多道路和公共工程，并建立一个类似于太平山顶的欧洲人保留地。 1922 年，斯塔布斯州长驳回了另一份要求获得代表权的请愿书，理由是该请愿书来自“人数微不足道的欧洲过境人口”。 10

As earlier, the Colonial Office resisted 抵制；反抗 demands for constitutional reform because it distrusted the local European business community.

The Colonial Office also feared that /主 giving in to 屈服于 such demands 谓 would encourage wealthy Chinese to make similar demands.

In 1923, Stubbs explained that /giving voting rights 投票权 to Europeans or Eurasians would lead to demands for the same 同样的要求 from the Chinese in Hong Kong.

The British government opposed 反对 constitutional reform in Hong Kong for another reason.

The colony, explains historian John Darwin, was “merely one square 方格；棋子位置 on the larger chessboard 棋盘 of Anglo-Chinese relations.”

In the 1920s, the British government became even more insistent (a.)坚决的；坚持的 on this policy.

For example, in 1922 the Foreign Office 外交部 criticized 批评 Stubbs for trying to forge 建立；缔造 better relations with the left-wing 左翼的；左派的 government in Canton, arguing 争辩；主张 that /Stubbs had violated the official British policy of encouraging Chinese unity 统一；团结.

Similarly, in the late 1920s the Foreign Office rejected (v.) Governor Cecil Clementi’s proposal 提议；建议 to formally convert 转变；改变 the leased 租赁的 New Territories, maintaining 主张；坚持认为 that /it violated British policy of conciliating (v.)安抚；调和 Chinese nationalism 民族主义.

- A conciliation service helps to settle disputes between employers and workers.调解机构帮助解决劳资纠纷。

Example 4. 案例

As earlier, the Colonial Office resisted demands for constitutional reform because it distrusted the local European business community.
The Colonial Office also feared that giving in to such demands would encourage wealthy Chinese to make similar demands.
In 1923, Stubbs explained that giving voting rights to Europeans or Eurasians would lead to demands for the same from the Chinese in Hong Kong.
The British government opposed constitutional reform in Hong Kong for another reason.
The colony, explains historian John Darwin, was “merely one square on the larger chessboard of Anglo-Chinese relations.” 11 In the 1920s, the British government became even more insistent on this policy.
For example, in 1922 the Foreign Office criticized Stubbs for trying to forge better relations with the left-wing government in Canton, arguing that Stubbs had violated the official British policy of encouraging Chinese unity.

Similarly, in the late 1920s the Foreign Office rejected Governor Cecil Clementi’s proposal to formally convert the leased New Territories, maintaining that it violated British policy of conciliating Chinese nationalism.

与以往一样，殖民地事务部抵制宪政改革的要求，因为它不信任当地的欧洲商界。殖民地事务部还担心，如果屈服于这些要求，会鼓励富裕的华人提出类似的要求。1923 年，司徒生解释说，赋予欧洲人或欧亚混血儿投票权会导致香港华人提出同样的要求。英国政府反对香港宪政改革还有另一个原因。历史学家约翰·达尔文解释说，这片殖民地“只不过是英中关系这盘大棋盘上的一格棋子”。 11 到了 20 世纪 20 年代，英国政府更加坚持这一政策。例如，1922 年，外交部批评司徒生试图与广州左翼政府建立更好的关系，认为司徒生违反了英国鼓励中国统一的官方政策。同样，在 20 世纪 20 年代末，外交部拒绝了总督塞西尔·克莱门蒂正式将租借的新界改为英国领土的提议，认为这违反了英国安抚中国民族主义的政策。

Several significant constitutional reforms did, however, take place during the interwar period.

In May 1926, Clementi shocked the Colonial Office 殖民事务部 by proposing to nominate 提名；推荐 a Chinese, Chow Shouson, to the Executive Council 行政委员会.

主 Chow, a prominent merchant and community leader who had attended 经常去，定期去(学校、教堂等) Columbia University in the 1870s as one of the first Chinese to study in the West /and subsequently distinguished 使有别于；表现突出；立功；使扬名 himself in the Qing government, 谓 remained on the council until 1936, when he was replaced by Robert Kotewall, a Eurasian businessman.

周先生是一位杰出的商人和社区领袖，他于19世纪70年代就读于哥伦比亚大学，是最早在西方求学的中国人之一，后来在清政府中崭露头角。他一直在该委员会任职至1936年，之后由欧亚裔商人罗伯特·郭继枚接任。

In 1928, the Colonial Office accepted Clementi’s proposal to expand the Legislative Council by two official and two nonofficial members.

However, Clementi dashed (v.)猛掷；猛击；猛撞;使破灭；使落空 the British businessmen’s hopes for increased representation 代表；代表权 by selecting a Chinese physician 医师；内科医生, Tso Seen Wan, and a Portuguese merchant, Jose Pedro Braga, the first Portuguese 后定说明 appointed 任命；委派 to the council.

然而，Clementi 却让英国商人希望增加代表权的愿望落了空，他选择了华人医生Tso Seen Wan 和葡萄牙商人Jose Pedro Braga ，后者是首位被任命进入该委员会的葡萄牙人。

dash (v.) sb’s 'hopes: to destroy sb’s hopes by making what they were hoping for impossible 使某人的希望化为泡影（或破灭）

Example 6. 案例

Several significant constitutional reforms did, however, take place during the interwar period.
In May 1926, Clementi shocked the Colonial Office by proposing to nominate a Chinese, Chow Shouson, to the Executive Council.
Chow, a prominent merchant and community leader who had attended Columbia University in the 1870s as one of the first Chinese to study in the West and subsequently distinguished himself in the Qing government, remained on the council until 1936, when he was replaced by Robert Kotewall, a Eurasian businessman.

In 1928, the Colonial Office accepted Clementi’s proposal to expand the Legislative Council by two official and two nonofficial members.
However, Clementi dashed the British businessmen’s hopes for increased representation by selecting a Chinese physician, Tso Seen Wan, and a Portuguese merchant, Jose Pedro Braga, the first Portuguese appointed to the council. 然而，两次世界大战期间也进行了一些重要的宪政改革。1926年5月，克莱门蒂提议提名华人周寿顺进入行政会议，此举震惊了殖民地事务部。周寿顺是一位杰出的商人和社区领袖，他于19世纪70年代就读于哥伦比亚大学，是最早赴西方留学的华人之一，之后在清政府中崭露头角。他一直担任行政会议成员至1936年，之后由欧亚混血商人罗伯特·科特沃尔接任。1928年，殖民地事务部接受了克莱门蒂的提议，将立法会议的席位增加两名官方成员和两名非官方成员。然而，克莱门蒂却让英国商人希望增加代表权的愿望落空，他选择了华人医生曹善婉和葡萄牙商人何塞·佩德罗·布拉加，后者是首位被任命为立法会议成员的葡萄牙人。
