006-06 The Confrontation 对抗，冲突；战斗，战役 of 1967 1967年的对抗

Table of Contents

1. The Confrontation 对抗，冲突；战斗，战役 of 1967 /1967年的对抗

---

1. The Confrontation 对抗，冲突；战斗，战役 of 1967 /1967年的对抗

Whereas the 1966 riots lasted (v.) less than a week, 主 a dispute in May 1967 over wages and working hours 谓 quickly escalated （使）逐步升级；（使）加剧；（使）恶化 into more than six months of violence 后定说明 orchestrated 精心策划；精心组织；秘密安排; 把……编成管弦乐曲 by the local branch of the Chinese Communist Party, the Hong Kong and Macau Work Committee.

1966年的骚乱仅持续了不到一周，而1967年5月一场因工资与工时引发的争端，迅速升级为长达六个多月的暴力事件，此次事件由中国共产党地方分支机构——港澳工作委员会策划组织.

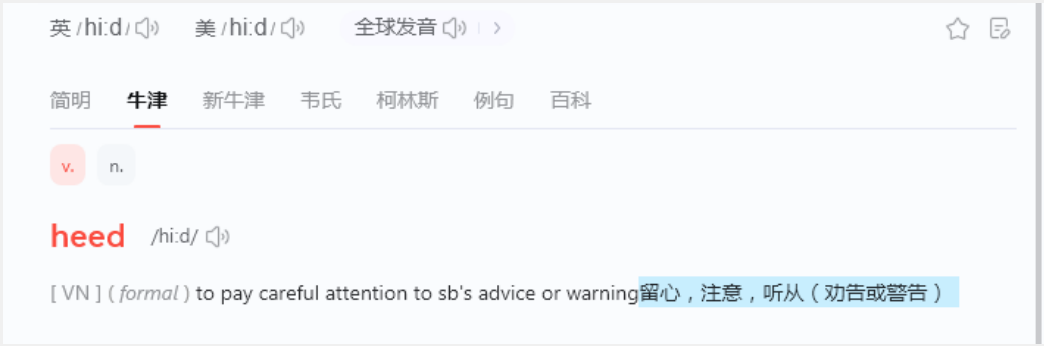
Inspired by the Cultural Revolution in China, where 主 youths known as the Red Guards 谓 were heeding 注意；听从；关注 Chairman Mao Zedong’s call (n.) to continue the revolutionary struggle, 主 left-wing activists 激进分子；积极分子；活动家 谓 fought with the colonial police.

受中国“文化大革命”的启发——当时被称为红卫兵的青年,响应毛泽东主席的号召，继续开展革命斗争——左翼激进分子与殖民警察发生了冲突.

Example 1. 案例

heed

→ 来自PIE*kadh,躲避，保护，词源同 hat,hood.引申词义注意，留心.



Although a similar situation had occurred in 1966 in Macau, where Portuguese troops fired (v.) on 向…开火 rioting (a.) pro-Beijing activists, conditions in Hong Kong became much worse.

Rioters 暴徒；暴乱者 burned (v.) cars and attacked the police, while local left-wing schools encouraged (v.) their students to participate with bombs made in the schools' science laboratories 实验室 and then planted 安放；放置；埋置 throughout the colony.

暴徒焚烧车辆、袭击警察，而当地左翼学校,怂恿学生参与其中，学生们用学校科学实验室制作的炸弹，并将这些炸弹遍布安置在该殖民地各处.

By the end of the six months, the official death toll（事故、战争等的）死亡人数；伤亡人数 was fifty-one, of which ten were police officers.
At least eight hundred people were injured in the riots /and more than three hundred others were wounded by bombs.
More than five thousand people were arrested and jailed, often without trial 审判；审理；审讯, while many others were secretly deported 驱逐出境；把……递解离境.

Sino-British relations reached their lowest point in the history of the new PRC.

Example 2. 案例

Whereas the 1966 riots lasted less than a week, a dispute in May 1967 over wages and working hours quickly escalated into more than six months of violence orchestrated by the local branch of the Chinese Communist Party, the Hong Kong and Macau Work Committee.
Inspired by the Cultural Revolution in China, where youths known as the Red Guards were heeding Chairman Mao Zedong' s call to continue the revolutionary struggle, left-wing activists fought with the colonial police.
Although a similar situation had occurred in 1966 in Macau, where Portuguese troops fired on rioting pro-Beijing activists, conditions in Hong Kong became much worse.
Rioters burned cars and attacked the police, while local left-wing schools encouraged their students to participate with bombs made in the schools' science laboratories and then planted throughout the colony.
By the end of the six months, the official death toll was fifty-one, of which ten were police officers.
At least eight hundred people were injured in the riots and more than three hundred others were wounded by bombs.
More than five thousand people were arrested and jailed, often without trial, while many others were secretly deported.
Sino-British relations reached their lowest point in the history of the new PRC.

1966年的骚乱持续不到一周,而1967年5月,一场关于工资和工时的纠纷迅速升级为长达六个多月的暴力冲突,这场冲突由中国共产党香港澳门工作委员会（港澳联委）策划. 受中国文化大革命的启发——当时被称为“红卫兵”的青年响应毛泽东主席的号召,继续进行革命斗争——左翼活动人士与殖民警察发生冲突. 尽管1966年澳门也发生过类似事件,葡萄牙军队向亲北京的骚乱者开枪,但香港的情况要糟糕得多. 暴徒焚烧汽车,袭击警察,而当地的左翼学校则鼓励学生在学校的科学实验室制造炸弹,然后将其安放在殖民地各地. 六个月后,官方公布的死亡人数为51人,其中包括10名警察. 至少有800人在骚乱中受伤,另有300多人被炸弹炸伤. 超过五千人被捕入狱,其中许多人未经审判就被监禁,另有许多人被秘密驱逐出境. 中英关系跌至中华人民共和国历史上的最低点.

Hong Kong had never experienced anything like the Confrontation 对抗，冲突；战斗，战役 (as colonial officials called it) of 1967, but 主 the disturbances 骚乱，动乱, like the Star Ferry riots the previous year, 谓 revealed many of the conditions in Hong Kong that provided a favorable environment for civil unrest 不安；动荡的局面.

Lower labor costs 劳动力成本 in Taiwan and South Korea had encouraged fears of unemployment and dislocation 转位；混乱；[医] 脱臼;(制度、进程、生活方式的)紊乱, half of the population was under age twenty-one, and 主 only 13 percent of youths fifteen to nineteen years old 系 were in school.

Some 12 percent of these students were enrolled 登记；使加入 in pro-Beijing schools, where they were inspired by the Cultural Revolution and by the anti-imperialist movements around the world.

Example 3. 案例

Hong Kong had never experienced anything like the Confrontation (as colonial officials called it) of 1967, but the disturbances, like the Star Ferry riots the previous year, revealed many of the conditions in Hong Kong that provided a favorable environment for civil unrest.
Lower labor costs in Taiwan and South Korea had encouraged fears of unemployment and dislocation, half of the population was under age twenty-one, and only 13 percent of youths fifteen to nineteen years old were in school.
Some 12 percent of these students were enrolled in pro-Beijing schools, where they were inspired by the Cultural Revolution and by the anti-imperialist movements around the world. 香港从未经历过类似1967年那场被殖民官员称为“对抗”的事件,但这场骚乱,如同前一年的天星小轮暴动一样,暴露了香港诸多滋生社会动荡的根源. 台湾和韩国较低的劳动力成本加剧了人们对失业和流离失所的担忧；香港一半人口年龄在21岁以下；15至19岁的青少年入学率仅为13%. 其中约12%的学生就读于亲北京学校,他们深受文化大革命和世界各地反帝运动的影响.

On May Day, traditionally a day for workers’ celebrations and demonstrations 示范，展示;示威；游行, three labor strikes began.

The disputes had not been resolved by the end of the week, and on May 6 /主 one of the strikes, at the Hong Kong Artificial Flower Works in San Po Kong, Kowloon, 谓 turned violent /as 当...时、随着 nonstriking workers and, subsequently, the police were brought in.

这些争端直至当周周末仍未得到解决. 5月6日，九龙新蒲岗香港人造花厂发生的其中一场罢工, 演变为暴力冲突，非罢工工人随后介入，警方也被召集到场.

Example 4. 案例

初始状态：罢工在持续.
第一个介入：当 (as) 非罢工工人（可能是工贼或对立派）被带来（试图破坏罢工或复工）时，冲突开始.
第二个介入：随后 (subsequently)，当 (as) 警察被调来（维持秩序或驱散人群）时，冲突进一步升级.
最终结果：罢工演变成 (turned) 暴力事件.

As John Cooper, a Briton 英国人 who was living in Hong Kong at the time and wrote one of the most thorough 详尽的；彻底的；全面的 accounts 描述；叙述；记录 of the disturbances 骚乱；动乱；干扰, stated, San Po Kong had “all the natural advantages” for civil unrest 内乱；社会动荡；民众骚乱.

“① Street upon street 一条街接一条街的 of tall dilapidated 荒废的，破旧的，要塌似的；受破坏的 buildings vied (v.)竞争；争夺 with each other for the limited space available, ② hundreds upon hundreds 数以百计 of hostile 怀有敌意的；不友好的 citizens 谓 lived out their lives 度过一生,度过余生 in human rabbit warrens 兔笼般的人居环境;拥挤破旧的住宅区；狭窄拥挤的地方, ③ plenty of workers were available to start a riot 可供发动一场骚乱, ④ plenty of workers' organisations existed to support it /and ⑤ plenty of students would come along 陪同,会加入进来、会前来 to give it political backing.”

街道 (是) 一条接一条的, 上面是 (of) 高耸 (tall) 的破败建筑 (dilapidated buildings) ，这些建筑竞相 (vied with each other) 争夺 (for) 有限的空间 (the limited space available) ，成百上千的 (hundreds upon hundreds of) 充满敌意的 (hostile) 市民生活 (lived out their lives) 在 (in) 兔笼般的 (rabbit warrens) 人居 (human) 环境中，有足够的 (plenty of) 工人可以被利用 (were available) 来发动 (to start) 一场骚乱 (a riot) ，有足够的 (plenty of) 工人组织存在 (existed) 来支持 (to support) 它，并且有足够的学生会加入 (would come along) 以提供 (to give it) 政治支持 (political backing) .

Example 5. 案例

| Header 1 | Header 2 |
|---|---|
| Street upon street of tall dilapidated buildings vied with each other for the limited space available | Street upon street of...：“一条街接一条街的...” ，是“名词 + upon + 同一名词”的固定结构，表示“大量的、接连不断的”，用于强调数量之多和密集程度.类似的还有 hundreds upon hundreds（成百上千的）. |
| hundreds upon hundreds of hostile citizens lived out their lives in human rabbit warrens | human rabbit warrens： rabbit warren是一个固定比喻，指“拥挤杂乱的地方” ，中文对应是“兔笼、蜂窝般的”. human作定语，强调是“人居的”. |
| plenty of workers were available to start a riot, | were available to start： available这里不是“有空的” ，而是“可被利用的、具备条件的”. 整句意思是“有大量工人可供（被组织起来）发动骚乱”. |
| and plenty of students would come along to give it political backing. | would come along：would表示“会、将要” ，是一种推测. come along是“加入、参与”. |

Example 6. 案例

On May Day, traditionally a day for workers' celebrations and demonstrations, three labor strikes began.
The disputes had not been resolved by the end of the week, and on May 6 one of the strikes, at the Hong Kong Artificial Flower Works in San Po Kong, Kowloon, turned violent as nonstriking workers and, subsequently, the police were brought in.
As John Cooper, a Briton who was living in Hong Kong at the time and wrote one of the most thorough accounts of the disturbances, stated, San Po Kong had “all the natural advantages” for civil unrest.
“Street upon street of tall dilapidated buildings vied with each other for the limited space available, hundreds upon hundreds of hostile citizens lived out their lives in human rabbit warrens, plenty of workers were available to start a riot, plenty of workers' organisations existed to support it and plenty of students would come along to give it political backing.” 18 五一劳动节是传统的工人庆祝和示威游行的日子,当天却爆发了三场罢工. 到周末,劳资纠纷仍未解决. 5 月 6 日,位于九龙新蒲岗香港人造花厂的罢工演变为暴力冲突,非罢工工人随后介入,警方也介入其中. 当时居住在香港的英国人约翰·库珀（John Cooper）对这场骚乱做了详尽的记录,他写道,新蒲岗具备了发生社会动荡的“所有天然条件”. “街道两旁林立着破败的高楼大厦,争夺着有限的空间；成百上千的敌对市民生活在如同兔子窝般的拥挤环境中；大量工人随时准备发动暴乱；众多工人组织为其提供支持；还有许多学生会加入其中,为其提供政治声援.” 18

In such a conducive (a.)使容易（或有可能）发生的 environment, by the morning of May 11 the strike in San Po Kong had turned political, with posters condemning 谴责 the “British authorities of Hong Kong” and workers waving Mao’s “Little Red Book,” chanting (v.)反复唱，反复呼喊;诵唱 revolutionary slogans, and singing (v.) revolutionary songs.

Example 7. 案例
conducive

→ con-, 强调. -duc, 引导，词源同duct, duke.

英 /kənˈdjuːsɪv/ 美 /kənˈduːsɪv/ 全球发音

简明 牛津 新牛津 韦氏 柯林斯 例句

con·du·cive adj. /kənˈdjuːsɪv/

~ to sth making it easy, possible or likely for sth to happen使容易（或有可能）发生的

• Chairs in rows are not as conducive to discussion as chairs arranged in a circle.椅子成排摆放不如成圈摆放便于讨论。

By afternoon, demonstrators 示威者 were banging 猛敲；砸 on the factory gates, and the police were called in.
That evening, the demonstrators, now joined by crowds of youths, started pelting 投掷；猛扔 the police with stones and bottles.

The police, who had been trained to handle (v.) riots since the 1956 anti-Communist riots and who had sharpened 加强；改进 their antiriot 防暴的 training after the 1966 Star Ferry riots and the hostilities in Macau, responded with clubs 击棍（一头粗一头细）;警棍；棍棒 and tear gas.

Example 8. 案例
club

[ C] a heavy stick with one end thicker than the other, that is used as a weapon击棍（一头粗一头细）

→ 来自PIE*gel,堆积，成块，词源同 clump,globe.本义为大块状的物件，后指短木棍. 因早期 扑克牌花色形似木棍而得名，但现在多使用法国trefoil（三叶草）形状，汉语译为梅花. 后 引申词义一群人的集会活动，即俱乐部.

As the unrest 动荡；骚乱 spread to the nearby Tung Tau Resettlement 重新安置 Estate (（通常指农村的）大片私有土地，庄园) 徙置区, the entire area was placed under a curfew 宵禁；宵禁令.

The next morning, drivers and conductors 售票员 for the Kowloon Motor Bus Company were chanting 反复呼喊；吟诵 Mao’s sayings 语录；格言 at the bus terminal 终点站；枢纽 at the Star Ferry in Tsim Sha Tsui /and affixing 粘贴；附上 anti-imperialist stickers 贴纸 to their buses.

Two youths in Red Guard uniforms 制服, both claiming 自称为 to be from Canton, were shouting Communist slogans outside a school in Mongkok.

The next day, posters were calling “Down with David Trench,” while crowds 人群；大众 were building roadblocks 路障 and barricades 路障；障碍物 and were setting cars and buses on fire.

第二天，海报上写着“打倒大卫·特伦奇”，人群设置路障，点燃汽车和公共汽车.

Example 9. 案例
David Trench

大卫·特伦奇(戴麟趾), 1915 年 6 月 2 日 - 1988 年 12 月 4 日 ) 是一位英国军人和殖民地总督.

David Trench 是 戴麟趾爵士，他在 1964年至1971年 间担任第24任香港总督.

Example 10. 案例

In such a conducive environment, by the morning of May 11 the strike in San Po Kong had turned political, with posters condemning the “British authorities of Hong Kong” and workers waving Mao’s “Little Red Book,” chanting revolutionary slogans, and singing revolutionary songs.
By afternoon, demonstrators were banging on the factory gates, and the police were called in.
That evening, the demonstrators, now joined by crowds of youths, started pelting the police with stones and bottles.
The police, who had been trained to handle riots since the 1956 anti-Communist riots and who had sharpened their antiriot training after the 1966 Star Ferry riots and the hostilities in Macau, responded with clubs and tear gas.
As the unrest spread to the nearby Tung Tau Resettlement Estate, the entire area was placed under a curfew.
The next morning, drivers and conductors for the Kowloon Motor Bus Company were chanting Mao’s sayings at the bus terminal at the Star Ferry in Tsim Sha Tsui and affixing anti-imperialist stickers to their buses.
Two youths in Red Guard uniforms, both claiming to be from Canton, were shouting Communist slogans outside a school in Mongkok.
The next day, posters were calling “Down with David Trench,” while crowds were building roadblocks and barricades and were setting cars and buses on fire.

在这种有利的环境下,5月11日清晨,新蒲岗的罢工已演变为政治事件,工人们张贴海报谴责“香港英国当局”,挥舞着毛主席语录《毛主席语录》,高喊革命口号,唱着革命歌曲. 到了下午,示威者开始猛烈敲打工厂大门,警方随即赶到现场. 当晚,示威者中加入了大批青年,他们开始向警察投掷石块和瓶子. 警方自1956年反共暴动以来就接受过应对暴乱的训练,并在1966年天星小轮暴动和澳门冲突后进一步加强了防暴训练,他们以警棍和催泪瓦斯还击. 随着骚乱蔓延至附近的东头安置邨,整个地区随即实施宵禁. 第二天早上,九龙巴士公司的司机和售票员在尖沙咀天星码头的巴士总站高喊毛泽东语录,并在巴士上张贴反帝贴纸. 两名身穿红卫兵制服、自称来自广州的青年在旺角一所学校外高喊共产主义口号. 第二天,到处张贴着“打倒大卫·特伦奇”的标语,人群设置路障和路障,并纵火焚烧汽车和巴士.

By the middle of May, the unrest 不安；动荡的局面 had spread throughout Kowloon and to Hong Kong Island.

Angry demonstrators 示威者 plastered 粘贴 posters on the gates and walls to Government House demanding to see the governor and also demanding that their arrested comrades 同伴；同志；战友 be released.

The demonstrators marched through Central District, defacing 损坏外观；涂污；破坏 buildings, attacking a BBC television team from Britain, and demanding that the Hilton Hotel take down (从高处) 取下;降低，放下 its British and American flags.

With all sorts of rumors flying about —water and electricity were going to be stopped, for example, and there would be a general strike 总罢工 —prices soared (v.).

To boost (v.) morale 士气；精神状态, the government had to issue (v.) a statement /and radio broadcast (v.) that the rumors were unfounded (a.)无根据的；没有事实依据的.

为了鼓舞士气，政府不得不发表声明，并通过广播表示谣言是没有根据的.

Still, from late May into early June 从五月底到六月初, strikes broke out in transport services 交通服务, food production, and retail 零售的；零售行业 sectors; textile 纺织的 mills 工厂；制造厂;磨坊; and some government departments.

Example 11. 案例

By the middle of May, the unrest had spread throughout Kowloon and to Hong Kong Island.
Angry demonstrators plastered posters on the gates and walls to Government House demanding to see the governor and also demanding that their arrested comrades be released.
The demonstrators marched through Central District, defacing buildings, attacking a BBC television team from Britain, and demanding that the Hilton Hotel take down its British and American flags.
With all sorts of rumors flying about—water and electricity were going to be stopped, for example, and there would be a general strike—prices soared.
To boost morale, the government had to issue a statement and radio broadcast that the rumors were unfounded.
Still, from late May into early June, strikes broke out in transport services, food production, and retail sectors; textile mills; and some government departments. 到五月中旬,动乱已蔓延至九龙和香港岛. 愤怒的示威者在政府大楼的大门和墙壁上张贴海报,要求会见总督,并要求释放被捕的同伴. 示威者游行穿过中环,损毁建筑物,袭击英国广播公司（BBC）的摄制组,并要求希尔顿酒店撤下英国和美国国旗. 各种谣言四起——例如,停水停电,以及即将举行总罢工——导致物价飞涨. 为了提振士气,政府不得不发表声明并通过广播澄清谣言不实. 尽管如此,从五月下旬到六月初,交通运输、食品生产、零售业、纺织厂以及一些政府部门仍然爆发了罢工.

Although 主 many accounts 记述；描述 of the 1967 disturbances 谓 portray (v.)描绘；描述 them as being instigated 煽动；唆使 almost solely by local Communists and Red Guards from Guangdong, 主 the Anti-British Struggle Committee 谓 enjoyed strong support in China, both —at least in the early stages —from the central government and from the population at large 整个；全体.

Like the leftist radicals 激进分子 in Hong Kong, the PRC government insisted that the struggle in Hong Kong was part of the worldwide fight against colonialism and imperialism.

In mid-May, the PRC vice minister 部长，大臣 for foreign affairs, Luo Cuibo, presented Donald Hopson, British charge d' affaires 代办 in Beijing, with a formal protest 抗议 and list of demands: ① accept all of the workers' demands, ② free (v.) all arrested people, ③ end (v.) all “fascist measures,” ④ apologize to victims and compensate (v.)赔偿；补偿 them, ⑤ and guarantee (v.)保证；担保 that there would be no more similar incidents.

Example 12. 案例
charge d’affaires

► DeepSeek:

Charge d’affaires 是一个外交头衔，中文通常译为 “代办”. 在外交使节体系中，它的级别仅次于大使 (Ambassador) 和公使 (Minister).
在一个大使馆中，通常的排序是：大使 (Ambassador) > 公使 (Minister) > 代办 (Charge d’affaires).

*职责：在外交代表（大使、公使）缺位（如离职、休假、尚未到任）时，临时代理使团团长职务，处理日常外交事务. *

中文对应：“临时代办” 或简称 “代办”. 您句子中的 British charge d’affaires in Beijing 即 “英国驻北京（大使馆）临时代办”.

► 外网:

chargé d’affaires, the lowest rank of diplomatic representative recognized under the Vienna Convention on Diplomatic Relations (1961). Chargés d’affaires are usually accredited to the foreign minister of the country in which they operate, rather than to the head of state, and act in the absence of the head of their mission—usually an ambassador. Chargés d’affaires may be appointed head of mission in cases in which only tenuous diplomatic relations exist between their country and the receiving state.

临时代办（Chargé d’affaires ）是《维也纳外交关系公约》（1961 年）承认的最低级别的外交代表. 临时代办, 通常向其任职国的外交部长而非国家元首派遣，并在其使团团长（通常是大使） 缺席时行使职权. 在其所在国与接受国之间仅存在微弱外交关系的情况下，临时代办可被任命为使团团长.

Luo condemned 谴责；指责 the British “atrocities 暴行；残暴行为” and “sanguinary (a.)血腥的；流血的；残暴的 oppression 血腥镇压；血腥压迫” as part of the British government’s “collusion 勾结；共谋 with American imperialism against China” /and accused (v.) the British of letting the United States use (v.) Hong Kong as “a base for aggression 侵略；侵犯 against Vietnam.”

Example 13. 案例
sanguinary

(a.)( formal ) involving or liking killing and blood （好）杀戮的；血腥的；嗜血成性的

Crowds marched outside Hopson’s office, shouting slogans 口号；标语, waving flags and placards 标语牌；告示牌, and burning effigies 雕像；模拟像 of Prime Minister Harold Wilson.

Example 14. 案例
effigy

→ ef-, 向外. -fig, 形成，形象，词源同figure, fiction. 引申义雕像，小雕像.

英 / ˈefɪdʒi /　美 / ˈefɪdʒi /　全球发音

简明　牛津　新牛津　韦氏　柯林斯　例句

ef·figy n. /ˈefɪdʒi/

( pl. -ies )

1. a statue of a famous person, a saint or a god（名人、圣人或神的）雕像，塑像
   - stone effigies in the church教堂里的石雕像
2. a model of a person that makes them look ugly（丑化人的）模拟像，画像
   - The demonstrators burned a crude effigy of the president.示威者焚毁了总统的丑化像。

Example 15. 案例

Although many accounts of the 1967 disturbances portray them as being instigated almost solely by local Communists and Red Guards from Guangdong, the Anti-British Struggle Committee enjoyed strong support in China, both—at least in the early stages—from the central government and from the population at large.
Like the leftist radicals in Hong Kong, the PRC government insisted that the struggle in Hong Kong was part of the worldwide fight against colonialism and imperialism.
In mid-May, the PRC vice minister for foreign affairs, Luo Cuibo, presented Donald Hopson, British charge d' affaires in Beijing, with a formal protest and list of demands: accept all of the workers' demands, free all arrested people, end all "fascist measures," apologize to victims and compensate them, and guarantee that there would be no more similar incidents.
Luo condemned the British "atrocities" and "sanguinary oppression" as part of the British government's "collusion with American imperialism against China" and accused the British of letting the United States use Hong Kong as "a base for aggression against Vietnam." Crowds marched outside Hopson's office, shouting slogans, waving flags and placards, and burning effigies of Prime Minister Harold Wilson.

尽管许多关于1967年骚乱的记载将其描述为几乎完全由广东的当地共产党人和红卫兵煽动,但抗英斗争委员会在中国却拥有强大的支持,至少在初期阶段,这种支持来自中央政府和广大民众. 与香港的左翼激进分子一样,中国政府坚称香港的斗争是全球反殖民主义和反帝国主义斗争的一部分. 5月中旬,中华人民共和国外交部副部长罗翠波向英国驻北京临时代办唐纳德·霍普森递交了一份正式抗议书和一系列要求：接受工人的所有诉求,释放所有被捕人员,停止一切"法西斯措施",向受害者道歉并给予赔偿,并保证不再发生类似事件. 罗冠聪谴责英国的"暴行"和"血腥镇压",称这是英国政府"勾结美国帝国主义对华作恶"的一部分,并指责英国放任美国利用香港作为"侵略越南的基地". 人群聚集在霍普森办公室外,高喊口号,挥舞旗帜和标语牌,焚烧首相哈罗德·威尔逊的肖像.

On May 17, one million protesters marched past the British office in Beijing armed with posters 海报 demanding that the British leave (v.) Hong Kong and vowing 发誓，立誓 to "Hang (v.) Wilson."

The PRC state radio 国家广播电台 declared that the British atrocities 暴行；残忍行为 in Hong Kong were a carefully orchestrated 精心策划的；秘密组织的 part of Britain's collusion 勾结；串通 with the United States against China.

(The United States saw the matter as being between China and Britain /and did not interfere, particularly since no American citizens were involved.)

主 A mass rally 集会；群众大会 on May 18 at the sports stadium in Beijing 谓 attracted one hundred thousand people.

Dignitaries 显贵；要人 in attendance 出席人数；出席 included Premier 总理，首相 Zhou Enlai, Foreign Minister Chen Yi, and Public Security Minister 公安部长 Xie Fuzhi, who accused the Hong Kong government of conspiring 密谋；共谋 with Chiang Kai-shek to destabilize 使不稳定；使动摇 the PRC.

In Shanghai, protesters broke into 闯入 and destroyed the home of Peter Hewitt, the British diplomatic representative.

They defaced 涂污；损坏……的外观 a picture of Queen Elizabeth /and tried to make Hewitt bow (v.)鞠躬，点头；低下（头）；停止对抗，屈从于 before a picture of Mao.

When Hewitt refused, the protesters forced him to march around his house, and they harassed 骚扰；使烦恼 his wife and children.

Example 16. 案例

On May 17, one million protesters marched past the British office in Beijing armed with posters demanding that the British leave Hong Kong and vowing to "Hang Wilson." The PRC state radio declared that the British atrocities in Hong Kong were a carefully orchestrated part of Britain's collusion with the United States against China.
(The United States saw the matter as being between China and Britain and did not interfere, particularly since no American citizens were involved.) A mass rally on May 18 at the sports stadium in Beijing attracted one hundred thousand people.
Dignitaries in attendance included Premier Zhou Enlai, Foreign Minister Chen Yi, and Public Security Minister Xie Fuzhi, who accused the Hong Kong government of conspiring with Chiang Kai-shek to destabilize the PRC.
In Shanghai, protesters broke into and destroyed the home of Peter Hewitt, the British diplomatic representative.
They defaced a picture of Queen Elizabeth and tried to make Hewitt bow before a picture of Mao.
When Hewitt refused, the protesters forced him to march around his house, and they harassed his wife and children.

5月17日,一百万名示威者手持标语,游行经过英国驻北京办事处,要求英国撤出香港,并扬言要"绞死威尔逊". 中华人民共和国国家广播电台宣称,英国在香港的暴行是英国与美国勾结反华的精心策划的一部分.（美国认为此事是中英之间的事,并未干预,尤其因为没有美国公民卷入其中.）5月18日,在北京体育场举行的大规模集会吸引了十万人参加. 出席集会的政要包括国务院总理周恩来、外交部长陈毅和公安部长谢福之,谢福之指责香港特区政府与蒋介石勾结,企图破坏中华人民共和国的稳定. 在上海,示威者闯入并破坏了英国驻港外交代表彼得·休伊特的住所. 他们损毁了伊丽莎白女王的画像,并试图强迫休伊特向毛泽东的画像下跪. 休伊特拒绝后,抗议者强迫他绕着房子游行,并骚扰他的妻子和孩子.

Although the British government had initially declined 谢绝；婉言拒绝 to comment (v.) 评论，发表意见 on Beijing's list of demands, on May 18 it issued a statement supporting the Hong Kong government for fulfilling its "inescapable 无法逃避的；必不可少的 duty to maintain law and order as impartially 公平地；公正地；不偏不倚地 and fairly as possible for the benefit of all in Hong Kong" /and insisting that /labor and management should be able to resolve the cause 原因 of this disturbance 骚乱；动乱；干

扰 —a “comparatively 比较地，相对地 small industrial conflict 工业冲突；劳资纠纷” — “in reason and goodwill 善意；友好；信誉.”

尽管英国政府起初拒绝对北京提出的一系列要求,发表评论，但在 5 月 18 日发表声明，支持香港政府履行其 “为香港全体民众的利益，秉持公正公平原则维护法治与秩序的不可推卸的责任” ，并坚持劳资双方应能够以理性与善意化解此次骚乱的根源 —— 一场 “规模相对较小的劳资纠纷”.

The British also sent three officials from the Commonwealth Office and the Foreign Office on a one-week mission to investigate (v.) the situation.

On June 2, Judith Hart, minister of state 国务大臣 for Commonwealth affairs, defended the Hong Kong government in the House of Commons 英国下议院 but promised that she would inquire (v.) into 调查；探究 Hong Kong’s labor laws and mechanisms 机制；体制；方法 for resolving (v.) labor disputes.

Even after 主 a People’s Daily editorial 社论；评论文章 on June 3 谓 beckoned 招手,召唤；吸引；示意 Hong Kong Chinese to “launch a vigorous 强有力的；充满活力的；激烈的 struggle against the wicked British imperialists 帝国主义者,” the British government confirmed 确定，确认 that /it would still try to help China get a seat in the UN.

On June 22, the House of Lords 英国上议院 debated the Hong Kong situation, calling for Britain to maintain the security of Hong Kong /but to try to improve labor conditions.

Example 17. 案例

Although the British government had initially declined to comment on Beijing’s list of demands, on May 18 it issued a statement supporting the Hong Kong government for fulfilling its “inescapable duty to maintain law and order as impartially and fairly as possible for the benefit of all in Hong Kong” and insisting that labor and management should be able to resolve the cause of this disturbance—a “comparatively small industrial conflict” — “in reason and goodwill.” The British also sent three officials from the Commonwealth Office and the Foreign Office on a one-week mission to investigate the situation.
On June 2, Judith Hart, minister of state for Commonwealth affairs, defended the Hong Kong government in the House of Commons but promised that she would inquire into Hong Kong’s labor laws and mechanisms for resolving labor disputes.
Even after a People’s Daily editorial on June 3 beckoned Hong Kong Chinese to “launch a vigorous struggle against the wicked British imperialists,” the British government confirmed that it would still try to help China get a seat in the UN.
On June 22, the House of Lords debated the Hong Kong situation, calling for Britain to maintain the security of Hong Kong but to try to improve labor conditions.

尽管英国政府最初拒绝就北京提出的要求清单置评,但在 5 月 18 日发表声明,支持香港特区政府履行其“维护香港法律和秩序,为香港全体人民谋福祉,且不可推卸的职责”,并坚持认为劳资双方应该能够“本着理性与善意”解决此次骚乱的根源——一场“相对较小的劳资冲突”. 英国还派遣了三名来自联邦事务部和外交部的官员前往香港进行为期一周的考察. 6 月 2 日,负责联邦事务的国务大臣朱迪思·哈特在下议院为香港特区政府辩护,并承诺将调查香港的劳动法和劳资纠纷解决机制. 即便在 6 月 3 日 《人民日报》 发表社论,号召香港市民“对邪恶的英国帝国主义者发起一场激烈的斗争”之后,英国政府仍然确认将尽力帮助中国获得联合国席位. 6 月 22 日,上议院就香港局势展开辩论,呼吁英国维护香港安全,但同时努力改善香港的劳动条件.

The leftists also had an arsenal 武器库；大批武器；（可用于某目的的）大量资源 of propaganda equipment 宣传设备 in Hong Kong: approximately ① ten left-wing newspapers; ② the New China News Agency, which directed (v.)指导；管理 the propaganda campaign and sent exaggerated 夸大的；夸张的 reports of local support to newspapers in China; ③ loudspeakers 扬声器；扩音器 placed outside buildings such as the Bank of China; ④ posters demanding "Blood for Blood 血债血偿,以牙还牙," "Stew (v.) 炖，煨 the White-Skinned Pig," "Fry (v.) the Yellow Running Dogs 走狗," "Down with British Imperialism," and "Hang (v.) David Trench"; ⑤ and effigies（人物的）模拟像；雕像 of the governor and other local British and Chinese leaders, often decorated with real or simulated 模拟的；仿造的 bombs to discourage 阻止；劝阻；使打消念头 the police from removing them.

Left-wing newspapers saw the Hong Kong police as trying to protect management from the legitimate 合法的；法律认可的；合理的；正当的 complaints and grievances (n.) 不满；委屈；抱怨；申诉 of workers.

The New China News Agency denounced (v.)谴责；指责；告发 Governor Trench for not meeting (v.) petitioners 请愿者；请求者 and for making Government House 政府大厦" ① a place to condemn (v.) the British paper tiger 纸老虎 ② and a big classroom for the creative study and application 应用，实施 of the invincible 不可战胜的；无敌的；无法改变的 thoughts of Mao Zedong."

新华社指责港督戴麟趾，（因为他的行为）导致总督府变成了一个“谴责英国纸老虎的地方”和一个“活学活用战无不胜的毛泽东思想的大学校”.

Example 18. 案例

我问: 这句话的逻辑有点奇怪, 新华社指责香港总督将总督府变成谴责英国是纸老虎? 香港总督怎么会谴责英国呢? 不应该是中国政府谴责英国是纸老虎吗?

► DeepSeek:

新华社的指责，并不是说港督真的在总督府里谴责英国. 恰恰相反，它的意思是： 由于港督（戴麟趾）的不作为和顽固（拒见请愿者），迫使抗议群众包围并冲击了总督府. 结果，总督府这个英国殖民统治的象征，反而在事实上变成了抗议者们用来谴责英国殖民者（纸老虎） 和学习毛泽东思想的“战场”和“课堂”.

On May 29, the agency accused the British of using the aircraft carrier 航空母舰 HMS Bulwark 壁垒；保障；防波堤, supposedly 据说，据传 in Hong Kong on a routing training exercise, to intimidate 恐吓；威胁；胁迫 the Chinese of Hong Kong.

5 月 29 日，该机构指责英国方面将本应在香港进行常规训练演习的 “堡垒号” 航空母舰，用于恐吓在港华人.

(Trench had in fact requested (v.) the British Admiralty 海军部 to dispatch 派遣；发送；迅速处理 the vessel as a show of force 武力展示；炫耀武力.)

Example 19. 案例

The leftists also had an arsenal of propaganda equipment in Hong Kong: approximately ten left-wing newspapers; the New China News Agency, which directed the propaganda campaign and sent exaggerated reports of local support to newspapers in China; loudspeakers placed outside buildings such as the Bank of China; posters demanding “Blood for Blood,” “Stew the White-Skinned Pig,” “Fry the Yellow Running Dogs,” “Down with British Imperialism,” and “Hang David Trench”; and effigies of the governor and other local British and Chinese leaders, often decorated with real or simulated bombs to discourage the police from removing them.

Left-wing newspapers saw the Hong Kong police as trying to protect management from the legitimate complaints and grievances of workers.
The New China News Agency denounced Governor Trench for not meeting petitioners and for making Government House "a place to condemn the British paper tiger and a big classroom for the creative study and application of the invincible thoughts of Mao Zedong." On May 29, the agency accused the British of using the aircraft carrier HMS Bulwark, supposedly in Hong Kong on a routing training exercise, to intimidate the Chinese of Hong Kong.
(Trench had in fact requested the British Admiralty to dispatch the vessel as a show of force.)

左翼人士在香港也拥有一套强大的宣传工具：大约十份左翼报纸；新华社,负责指挥宣传活动,并向中国大陆的报纸发送夸大的本地支持率报道；在中国银行等建筑物外设置的扩音器；张贴着"以血还血"、"炖白皮猪"、"炸黄狗"、"打倒英国帝国主义"、"绞死大卫·特伦奇"等标语的海报；以及港督和其他本地英国和中国领导人的画像,这些画像通常装饰着真炸弹或假炸弹,以阻止警方移除. 左翼报纸认为香港警方试图保护管理层免受工人的合理投诉和不满. 新华社谴责特伦奇总督拒绝接见请愿者,并将港督府变成"谴责英国纸老虎的地方,以及创造性地学习和应用毛泽东不屈思想的大教室". 5 月 29 日,该机构指责英国利用当时据称正在香港进行例行训练演习的航空母舰"布尔沃克"号恐吓香港市民.（事实上,特伦奇曾要求英国海军部派遣该舰以示武力.）

The colonial government responded (v.) with its own extensive 大量的；广泛的 counterpropaganda 反宣传 campaign, whose organizer, Jimmy McGregor, received frequent death threats /and was condemned by the leftists 左翼分子 as a "vagabond 流浪者；无赖 and a criminal," the "governor's jackal 豺；走狗," and a "wolf whining 哀鸣；呜咽 in the night."

Example 20. 案例
jackal

a wild animal like a dog, that eats the meat of animals that are already dead and lives in Africa and Asia 豺；胡狼

Under the Emergency Regulations Ordinance 紧急规例条例, the police were allowed to detain 拘留；扣留 suspected activists 激进分子；活动家 without trial.

In mid-May, the colonial government banned (v.) loudspeaker broadcasts (n.)广播 such as those coming from the Bank of China.
Governor Trench appeared on television /and encouraged the public to stand tall 挺直腰杆；坚强不屈 during the disturbances 骚乱；动乱.
On June 1, the government prohibited (v.) inflammatory 煽动性的 posters /and specified (v.)明确规定 punishments for anyone who produced, distributed, or displayed such posters.

The PRC government and the local branch of the New China News Agency 谓 condemned the ban as a “political provocation 政治挑衅” and “fascist 法西斯的 decree 法令；政令.”

Example 21. 案例

decree

→ de-, 向下. -cree, 分开，词源同crisis, certain. 用来指裁决，法令. 拼写比较degree, agree.

英 /dɪˈkriː/ 美 /dɪˈkriː/ 全球发音

简明 牛津 新牛津 韦氏 柯林斯 例句

n. v.

de·cree /dɪˈkriː/

1. [ C,U ]an official order from a ruler or a government that becomes the law法令；政令
   - to issue/sign a decree 颁布/签署法令
   - a leader who rules by decree (= not in a democratic way) 专制统治者
2. [ C ]a decision that is made in court（法院的）裁定，判决

n. v.

de·cree /dɪˈkriː/

( de·cree·ing de·creed de·creed )

to decide, judge or order sth officially裁定；判决；颁布

[ VN ]

- The government decreed a state of emergency.政府下令进入紧急状态。

[ VN that ]

- It was decreed that the following day would be a holiday.法令宣布第二天为休假日。

[ alsoValsoV wh- ]

Example 22. 案例

The colonial government responded with its own extensive counterpropaganda campaign, whose organizer, Jimmy McGregor, received frequent death threats and was condemned by the leftists as a “vagabond and a criminal,” the “governor’s jackal,” and a “wolf whining in the night.” Under the Emergency Regulations Ordinance, the police were allowed to detain suspected activists without trial.
In mid-May, the colonial government banned loudspeaker broadcasts such as those coming from the Bank of China.
Governor Trench appeared on television and encouraged the public to stand tall during the disturbances.
On June 1, the government prohibited inflammatory posters and specified punishments for anyone who produced, distributed, or displayed such posters.
The PRC government and the local branch of the New China News Agency condemned the ban as a “political provocation” and “fascist decree.”

殖民政府随即展开大规模反宣传运动,其组织者吉米·麦格雷戈(Jimmy McGregor)屡遭死亡威胁,并被左翼人士斥为“流浪汉和罪犯”、“总督的走狗”和“夜半哀嚎的狼”. 根据《紧急状态条例》,警方获准未经审判拘留涉嫌活动人士. 5 月中旬,殖民政府禁止了包括中国银行在内的各种扩音器广播. 总督特伦奇(Trench)出现在电视上,鼓励民众在骚乱中保持镇定. 6 月 1 日,政府禁止张贴煽动性海

报,并明确规定了对制作、散发或展示此类海报者的处罚. 中华人民共和国政府和新华社地方分社谴责该禁令是“政治挑衅”和“法西斯法令”.

Having served in other colonies, 主 some British police commanders 谓 knew the danger of responding to such movements with force, especially with China so close.

The situation was particularly delicate 微妙的；需要小心处理的 in the New Territories, where the border between Hong Kong and China was often relatively porous (a.)多孔渗水的；有漏洞的；渗透的；疏松的.

On the morning of July 8, 主 villagers from the Chinese part of Sha Tau Kok, a border village divided into Chinese and British sectors, 谓 attacked a police post 警察岗哨；警察哨所 with stones, bottles, bombs, and, later, automatic weapons 自动武器.

A violent clash 冲突；打斗 had already occurred in the same village on June 24, but five policemen were killed in this second attack.

With more than eighty of their policemen holed up 躲藏；隐蔽；固守 in the police post /but anxious not to provoke 挑衅；激怒；刺激 China, Hong Kong authorities had to await (v.)等待；等候 approval (n.)批准；认可 from London before sending in the military 军队；军方.

香港当局有八十多名警察困在警岗内，却又急于避免激怒中国，因此在派遣军队之前，必须先等待伦敦方面的批准.

This clash at Sha Tau Kok, along with reports of several thousand people in uniform 制服；穿制服的 moving toward the Man Kam To 文锦渡 bridge, a major border-crossing 越境，越界 point 边境过境点, sent the colony into panic.

沙头角发生的这场冲突，再加上有数千名身着制服的人员向主要边境口岸文锦渡桥移动的消息，令整个殖民地陷入恐慌.

From July 9 to July 11, violent clashes occurred between rioters 暴徒；骚乱者 and policemen throughout Hong Kong Island, with one policeman left dead.

On July 12, the government imposed (v.) curfews 宵禁；宵禁令 in Hong Kong and Kowloon.

Example 23. 案例

Having served in other colonies, some British police commanders knew the danger of responding to such movements with force, especially with China so close.
The situation was particularly delicate in the New Territories, where the border between Hong Kong and China was often relatively porous.
On the morning of July 8, villagers from the Chinese part of Sha Tau Kok, a border village divided into Chinese and British sectors, attacked a police post with stones, bottles, bombs, and, later, automatic weapons.
A violent clash had already occurred in the same village on June 24, but five policemen were killed in this second attack.
With more than eighty of their policemen holed up in the police post but anxious not to provoke China, Hong Kong authorities had to await approval from London before sending in the military.

This clash at Sha Tau Kok, along with reports of several thousand people in uniform moving toward the Man Kam To bridge, a major border-crossing point, sent the colony into panic.
From July 9 to July 11, violent clashes occurred between rioters and policemen throughout Hong Kong Island, with one policeman left dead.
On July 12, the government imposed curfews in Hong Kong and Kowloon.

曾在其他殖民地任职的英国警官深知,以武力应对此类行动的危险性,尤其是在中国近在咫尺的情况下. 新界的情况尤为微妙,因为香港与中国的边界往往相对松散. 7月8日清晨,沙头角（一个分为中英两区的边境村庄）中方村民用石块、瓶子、炸弹,以及后来的自动武器袭击了一个警察哨所. 6月24日,该村已发生过一次激烈的冲突,但在第二次袭击中,五名警察丧生. 由于八十多名警察被困在哨所内,但香港当局担心激怒中国,不得不等待伦敦的批准才能派遣军队. 沙头角的冲突,以及数千名身着制服的人正向主要过境点文锦渡桥进发的报道,使整个殖民地陷入恐慌. 7月9日至11日,香港岛各地发生暴徒与警察之间的暴力冲突,一名警察殉职. 7月12日,政府在香港和九龙实施宵禁.

The deaths of six policemen in one weekend 谓 shocked the colony.

They also made the police take a much more active (a.)好动的；积极主动的, less restrained (a.)克制的；受约束的 approach to dealing with the leftists, raiding (v.)突袭；搜查 (often working closely with 与紧密合作 local military regiments 军团；团 and battalions 营；大队) suspected 可疑的；被怀疑的 centers of Communist activities /and seizing (v.)夺取；没收；扣押 weapons, bombs, and Communist literature 文献；印刷品；著作.

As the police changed (v.) their tactics in mid-July, so did the leftists, who started bombing (v.) police stations and other government buildings.

By late July, the targets of the bombings expanded to theaters, parks, markets, and other public places.

Buses and taxis were set on fire, and bombs —real or fake —were planted 栽种，放置；埋设 nearly everywhere.

On July 20, the government put into effect 实施，执行；生效 nine emergency regulations 条例；规章；法规 enacted 制定；颁布（法令）；通过 in 1949, most giving the police wider powers of search and arrest.
The editors, publishers, and printers of three leftist newspapers were charged 控告；指控 and convicted 宣判有罪；证明...有罪 of false reporting.

Example 24. 案例

The deaths of six policemen in one weekend shocked the colony.
They also made the police take a much more active, less restrained approach to dealing with the leftists, raiding (often working closely with local military regiments and battalions) suspected centers of Communist activities and seizing weapons, bombs, and Communist literature.
As the police changed their tactics in mid-July, so did the leftists, who started bombing police stations and other government buildings.
By late July, the targets of the bombings expanded to theaters, parks, markets, and other public places.
Buses and taxis were set on fire, and bombs—real or fake—were planted nearly everywhere.
On July 20, the government put into effect nine emergency regulations enacted in 1949, most giving the police wider powers of search and arrest.

The editors, publishers, and printers of three leftist newspapers were charged and convicted of false reporting.

一个周末内六名警察的殉职震惊了整个殖民地. 这也促使警方采取更加积极主动、毫不留情的手段来应对左翼分子,他们突袭（通常与当地军队密切合作）疑似共产主义活动中心,缴获武器、炸弹和共产主义宣传品. 7月中旬,随着警方策略的转变,左翼分子也随之改变策略,开始轰炸警察局和其他政府大楼. 到7月下旬,轰炸目标扩大到剧院、公园、市场和其他公共场所. 公共汽车和出租车被纵火焚烧,炸弹——无论是真炸弹还是假炸弹——几乎随处可见. 7月20日,政府实施了1949年颁布的九项紧急法令,其中大部分赋予警方更大的搜查和逮捕权力. 三家左翼报纸的编辑、出版商和印刷商被指控并被判犯有虚假报道罪.

When in August the leftists shifted from riots to attacking people who opposed them and planting bombs, the police stepped up 加紧；加强 their crackdowns 镇压；严厉打击.

The most sensational 轰动的；引起哗然的 raid 突然搜查；突袭 was on August 4, when 主 more than one thousand policemen and soldiers, supported by three helicopters from HMS Hermes, 谓 launched an attack from the ground and the air on three leftist strongholds 据点；堡垒, one of which was booby-trapped (v.)设有陷阱的 and contained bomb-making equipment.

Example 25. 案例

booby-trap

(v.)[ VN] to place a booby trap in or on sth 设陷阱于；布置机关于；设饵雷于

booby

英 / ˈbuːbi /　美 / ˈbuːbi /　全球发音

简明　牛津　新牛津　韦氏　柯林斯　例句　百科

booby n. /ˈbuːbi/

( pl. -ies )

1. ( informal ) a stupid person笨蛋；傻瓜
   - Don't be such a booby!不要那么傻！
2. [ usually pl. ] ( informal ) a word for a woman's breast, used especially by children（女人的）乳房（多见于儿童用语）
3. a large tropical bird with brightly coloured feet that lives near the sea鲣鸟（大型热带海鸟）

The leftists then turned to planting bombs where children could easily find them.

In one incident, a bomber’s children —whom the bomber had taken with him while planting bombs —were killed when the bombs exploded prematurely 过早地；提前地. On August 20, two children in North Point on Hong Kong Island were killed by a bomb planted in a ball.

On August 24, the leftists attacked the car of Lam Bun, a popular radio commentator 评论员；解说员 who had criticized their activities.

After setting Lam’s car on fire, they poured (v.) gasoline on Lam and his cousin /and set them on fire.

Example 26. 案例

cousin

The leftists had already been sending threatening (a.) letters to Chinese business and community leaders; now they issued (v.) lists of other so-called traitors 叛徒；卖国贼 to be executed 处决；处死.

Example 27. 案例

When in August the leftists shifted from riots to attacking people who opposed them and planting bombs, the police stepped up their crackdowns.
The most sensational raid was on August 4, when more than one thousand policemen and soldiers, supported by three helicopters from HMS Hermes, launched an attack from the ground and the air on three leftist strongholds, one of which was booby-trapped and contained bomb-making equipment.
The leftists then turned to planting bombs where children could easily find them.
In one incident, a bomber’s children—whom the bomber had taken with him while planting bombs—were killed when the bombs exploded prematurely.
On August 20, two children in North Point on Hong Kong Island were killed by a bomb planted in a ball.
On August 24, the leftists attacked the car of Lam Bun, a popular radio commentator who had criticized their activities.
After setting Lam’s car on fire, they poured gasoline on Lam and his cousin and set them on fire.
The leftists had already been sending threatening letters to Chinese business and community leaders; now they issued lists of other so-called traitors to be executed.

8 月,左翼分子从暴乱转向袭击反对者并安放炸弹,警方随即加大了镇压力度. 其中最引人注目的一次突袭发生在 8 月 4 日,当时一千多名警察和士兵在“赫尔墨斯”号两栖攻击舰三架直升机的支援下,对三个左翼分子据点发动了地面和空中联合攻击,其中一个据点被设置了陷阱,并藏有炸弹制造设备. 之后,左翼分子开始在儿童容易发现的地方安放炸弹. 在一次事件中,一名炸弹制造者带着自己的孩子一起安放炸弹,结果炸弹提前爆炸,导致两名儿童丧生. 8 月 20 日,香港岛北角两名儿童被一个藏在球

里的炸弹炸死. 8 月 24 日,左翼分子袭击了批评左翼分子活动的知名电台评论员林斌的汽车. 他们先是放火烧毁了林斌的汽车,然后向林斌和他的表弟身上泼汽油并点燃. 左翼分子此前已向中国商界和社区领袖寄送恐吓信；现在他们又公布了其他所谓“叛徒”的名单,准备处决他们.

The PRC government was concerned about the heavy-handed (a.)严厉的；高压的；手段强硬的 police response to the rioters 暴徒；骚乱者 /and was particularly disturbed 使不安；使烦恼 by signs of military activity in Hong Kong, such as visiting British warships.

It was most bothered, however, by the "barbaric" 野蛮的；残暴的 and "fascist" (a.)法西斯主义的 arrest and confinement (n.)监禁；关押；禁闭 of left-wing reporters.

When the Hong Kong police arrested Xue Ping of the New China News Agency, on July 21 /the Chinese government placed Reuter’ s correspondent 记者；通讯员 Anthony Grey under house arrest 软禁 in Beijing.
(He was not released until October 1969, well (adv.)很；相当；大大地；远远地 after the disturbances 骚乱；动乱；骚动 had ended.)

When Hong Kong police raided 突击搜查；突袭 pro-Beijing shops, closed down newspapers, and arrested (v.) supporters, on August 22 Red Guards set fire 纵火；点燃 to the British mission 外交使团；使馆 in Beijing and physically assaulted 殴打；袭击；侵犯 Hopson and two women in the mission /until Chinese soldiers intervened and escorted 护送；陪同；护卫 the diplomats 外交官；外交人员 to safety.

Example 28. 案例
escort

→ 来自拉丁文*excorrigere, 引导，护送，来自词根rig, 竖立，坚直，词源同right, erect. 原为军事术语。

英 / ˈeskɔːt / 美 / ˈeskɔːrt / 全球发音

简明 牛津 新牛津 韦氏 柯林斯 例句 百科

n. v.

es·cort /ɪˈskɔːt/

/ɪˈskɔːt/ [ VN , usually+ adv./prep. ] to go with sb to protect or guard them or to show them the way护卫；护送

• The President arrived, escorted by twelve soldiers.总统在十二名卫兵的护送下到达。

——note at take

n. v.

es·cort /ˈeskɔːt/

1. [ C,U ]a person or group of people or vehicles that travels with sb/sth in order to protect or guard them护送者；护卫队；护卫舰（或车队、飞机）
   - Armed escorts are provided for visiting heads of state.来访的国家元首由武装卫队护送。
   - Prisoners are taken to court under police escort .囚犯由警察押送带上法庭。
2. [ C ] ( formal ) ( old-fashioned ) a person, especially a man, who takes sb to a particular social event陪同某人参加社交活动的人（尤指男人）
3. [ C ]a person, especially a woman, who is paid to go out socially with sb受雇陪同某人外出社交的人（尤指女人）
   - an escort service/agency 社交陪伴服务社

After the PRC government prevented British diplomatic and commercial personnel 人员；员工 from leaving China, the British and Chinese governments suspended (v.) some of each other’s diplomatic privileges 特权；特殊待遇.

When Chinese diplomats got into a scuffle 扭打；混战；争执 with British civilians 平民；百姓 in London on August 29, the police had to intervene.
This prompted more angry responses from China.

Protesting that the British had instructed (v.)指示；教育 their police to beat the Chinese diplomats 外交官, the PRC government canceled all exit permits 出境许可证；通行证 for Britons in China.
Red Guards demonstrated 示威；游行抗议 again outside the British mission in Beijing.

Example 29. 案例

The PRC government was concerned about the heavy-handed police response to the rioters and was particularly disturbed by signs of military activity in Hong Kong, such as visiting British warships.
It was most bothered, however, by the “barbaric” and “fascist” arrest and confinement of left-wing reporters.
When the Hong Kong police arrested Xue Ping of the New China News Agency, on July 21 the Chinese government placed Reuter’s correspondent Anthony Grey under house arrest in Beijing.
(He was not released until October 1969, well after the disturbances had ended.) When Hong Kong police raided pro-Beijing shops, closed down newspapers, and arrested supporters, on August 22 Red Guards set fire to the British mission in Beijing and physically assaulted Hopson and two women in the mission until Chinese soldiers intervened and escorted the diplomats to safety.
After the PRC government prevented British diplomatic and commercial personnel from leaving China, the British and Chinese governments suspended some of each other’s diplomatic privileges.
When Chinese diplomats got into a scuffle with British civilians in London on August 29, the police had to intervene.
This prompted more angry responses from China.
Protesting that the British had instructed their police to beat the Chinese diplomats, the PRC government canceled all exit permits for Britons in China.
Red Guards demonstrated again outside the British mission in Beijing.

中国政府对警方镇压暴徒的强硬手段感到担忧,尤其对香港出现的军事活动迹象,例如英国军舰的到访感到不安. 然而,最令其恼火的是左翼记者遭到“野蛮”和“法西斯”式的逮捕和监禁. 7月21日,香港警方逮捕了新华社记者薛平,随后中国政府将路透社记者安东尼·格雷软禁在北京. （直到1969年10月,骚乱结束后很久,他才被释放. ）8月22日,香港警方突袭亲北京商店、查封报刊、逮捕支持者,红卫兵纵火焚烧了英国驻北京使馆,并对霍普森和使馆内的两名女性进行人身攻击,直到中国士兵介入并将外交官们护送至安全地带. 在中国政府阻止英国外交和商务人员离境后,英中两国政府暂停了对方的部分外交特权. 8月29日,中国外交官在伦敦与英国民众发生冲突,警方介入制止. 这引发了中国的强烈不满. 中国政府抗议英国指示其警察殴打中国外交官,并取消了所有在华英国公民的出境许可. 随后,红卫兵再次在北京英国使馆外举行示威活动.

By September, the local leftists 左翼分子 had begun to lose the support of Beijing and seemed to be fighting a lost cause (（支持或为之奋斗的）事业，目标，思想) 注定失败的斗争；徒劳无功的事.

The police had closed down many of the leftists’ headquarters 总部；总办事处, and the colonial government agreed to show leniency (n.)宽大；仁慈 to strikers who promised not to strike again.

Example 30. 案例

leniency

→ 来自拉丁语lenis,温和的，宽容的，词源同 let,lassitude.

英 / ˈliːniənsi /　美 / ˈliːniənsi /　全球发音

简明　韦氏　柯林斯　例句

leniency　/ˈliːnɪənsɪ, ˈliːnjən-/　TEM8

N-UNCOUNT Leniency is a lenient attitude or lenient behaviour. 仁慈; 宽大

- The judge rejected pleas for leniency and sentenced him to a year in prison.
  法官驳回了宽大处理的请求，判处他一年的监禁。

The leftists appeared to be divided 分裂的；有分歧的, with one side preferring less violence and the other wanting to continue the attacks.

Relations between China and Britain had improved.
Toward the end of September, the British ambassador 大使 to the UN reported that despite China’s recent behavior, Britain still believed that it should be admitted to the UN.

On October 1, China’s national day, the PRC followed its annual tradition of honoring 信守；履行 its agreement to provide water to Hong Kong twenty-four hours a day (the water supply had been reduced during the disturbances).

Example 31. 案例

By September, the local leftists had begun to lose the support of Beijing and seemed to be fighting a lost cause.
The police had closed down many of the leftists’ headquarters, and the colonial government agreed to show leniency to strikers who promised not to strike again.

The leftists appeared to be divided, with one side preferring less violence and the other wanting to continue the attacks.
Relations between China and Britain had improved.
Toward the end of September, the British ambassador to the UN reported that despite China’s recent behavior, Britain still believed that it should be admitted to the UN.
On October 1, China’s national day, the PRC followed its annual tradition of honoring its agreement to provide water to Hong Kong twenty-four hours a day (the water supply had been reduced during the disturbances).

到了九月,香港左翼人士开始失去北京的支持,似乎陷入了一场注定失败的斗争. 警方关闭了许多左翼人士的总部,殖民政府同意对承诺不再罢工的罢工者予以宽大处理. 左翼人士内部似乎出现了分歧,一方倾向于减少暴力,另一方则希望继续抗议. 中英关系有所改善. 九月底,英国驻联合国大使报告称,尽管中国近期的行为令人担忧,但英国仍然认为中国应该被接纳为联合国成员国. 10月1日是中国的国庆节,中华人民共和国按照惯例履行了向香港24小时供水的承诺（此前在骚乱期间,香港的供水曾一度减少）.

PRC leaders ultimately helped keep the movement from becoming too powerful by rerouting (v.)(车辆或飞机)改变线路; 改道 supplies after Red Guards disrupted 中断，扰乱 supplies to Hong Kong /and resisting 阻挡，抵制 calls (n.) from the Red Guards to overthrow Hong Kong’s capitalist 资本主义的 and colonial systems.

中国领导人最终通过在红卫兵扰乱对香港的物资供应后, 重新调配物资，并抵制红卫兵推翻香港资本主义与殖民制度的呼声，成功阻止了这场运动变得过于强势。

Having monitored (v.)监视；监听（外国广播或电话）；监控 events closely from the outset 开端；起初, the PRC government became increasingly critical (a.)批判的，爱挑剔的 of the leftists’ tactics.

中国政府从一开始就密切关注事态发展，对左翼分子的手段愈发持批评态度。

It did not approve of how certain prominent leftists in Hong Kong were known to live (v.) extravagantly 奢侈地；铺张地；挥霍地.

它不认可香港某些知名左翼人士众所周知的奢华生活方式。

Example 32. 案例
be known to do sth 众所周知做某事；以做某事而闻名

-leftists were known to live (v.) extravagantly
- He is known to help the poor. 众所周知他帮助穷人。
- This city is known to attract many tourists. 这座城市以吸引众多游客而闻名。

我问: 这里为什么要有个 how? 如果没有how, 句子也对吗?

► DeepSeek:

| Header 1 | Header 2 |
|---|---|
| 为什么必须要有 how | 这里的 how 是必不可少的，它引导一个宾语从句，作 approve of的宾语。没有 how，句子是错误或不完整的。在这个句子中，how不表示“如何”（方式），而是接近于 the fact that 或 the way in which，用于引出并名词化后面整个句子，使其能够充当介词 of的宾语。直译：它不赞成 “某些知名左派生活奢靡是众所周知的” 这个事实/情况。 |
| 如果没有 how，为什么不对？ | 错误写法：It did not approve of certain prominent leftists... were known to live extravagantly. |

| Header 1 | Header 2 |
| --- | --- |
| | 语法错误：approve of是“动词+介词”结构，后面需要接名词或名词性成分。如果没有 how，certain prominent leftists... were known to live...就是一个完整的句子（有主语、谓语），它不能直接放在介词 of后面。如果不想用 how，有另外两种正确写法：• 使用 the fact that引导同位语从句 (最清晰)：It did not approve of the fact that certain prominent leftists... were known to live extravagantly.• 将宾语简化成一个名词短语 (改变原意，但语法正确)：It did not approve of the extravagant lifestyle of certain prominent leftists...（它不赞成某些知名左派的奢靡生活方式。）—— 但这不再是“不赞成他们以生活奢靡著称这个事实”，而是直接不赞成“生活方式”。 |

(One leading Communist had arrived at the Government House protests (n.)抗议活动 in his chauffeur(（尤指富人或要人的）司机)-driven (a.)由司机驾驶的 Mercedes-Benz.)

（一位资深共产党员, 乘坐由专职司机驾驶的梅赛德斯-奔驰轿车, 抵达了政府大楼抗议现场。）

Example 33. 案例

chauffeur

→ 谐音“师傅”，我们经常称呼马路上的司机为“师傅”。词根-chauf-指“加热”，来自古法语 chaufer “加热”。司机和加热是什么关系呢？最早的汽车是用蒸汽驱动的，每15分钟就要停车向锅炉加煤，以保持热能。同源的chafe（摩擦）就不难理解了，摩擦生热嘛~

英 /ˈʃəʊfə(r)/ 美 /ʃoʊˈfɜːr/ 全球发音

简明 牛津 新牛津 韦氏 柯林斯 例句 百科

n. v.

chauf·feur /ˈʃəʊfə(r)/

[ VN ] to drive sb in a car, usually as your job为（某人）开车；当...司机

• He was chauffeured to all his meetings.他由司机开车送去参加所有的会议。

• a chauffeured limousine有专职司机驾驶的豪华轿车

The PRC government also became upset (a.)不高兴的，心烦意乱的 when it realized that the Hong Kong leftists were sending inflated 通货膨胀的；充了气的；夸大的；夸张的；虚高的 or even fabricated 编造的；捏造的；虚构的 accounts of police atrocities 暴行；残暴行为 and were exaggerating 夸大；夸张 local support for the leftists.

One leader of the Anti-British Struggle Committee embarrassed (v.)（使）尴尬，窘迫 the leftists and the PRC by defecting 叛逃；背叛；脱离 to Taiwan.

Jiang Qing, Chairman Mao’s wife, complained 报怨 that /主 a cash gift 礼金 to the committee 谓 should have been used (v.) instead to promote (v.) Red Guard activities in the colony’s schools.

毛主席的妻子江青抱怨说，给委员会的现金礼物, 本应用于促进红卫兵在殖民地学校的活动。

主 A lavish 奢华的；盛大的；慷慨的 dinner party held by the committee in honor of 为了表示尊敬和钦佩,为庆祝 October 1 谓 also drew (v.) widespread criticism from the PRC government and the mainland press.

Example 34. 案例

PRC leaders ultimately helped keep the movement from becoming too powerful by rerouting supplies after Red Guards disrupted supplies to Hong Kong and resisting calls from the Red Guards to overthrow Hong Kong’s capitalist and colonial systems.
Having monitored events closely from the outset, the PRC government became increasingly critical of the leftists’ tactics.
It did not approve of how certain prominent leftists in Hong Kong were known to live extravagantly.
(One leading Communist had arrived at the Government House protests in his chauffeur-driven Mercedes-Benz.) The PRC government also became upset when it realized that the Hong Kong leftists were sending inflated or even fabricated accounts of police atrocities and were exaggerating local support for the leftists.
One leader of the Anti-British Struggle Committee embarrassed the leftists and the PRC by defecting to Taiwan.
Jiang Qing, Chairman Mao’s wife, complained that a cash gift to the committee should have been used instead to promote Red Guard activities in the colony’s schools.
A lavish dinner party held by the committee in honor of October 1 also drew widespread criticism from the PRC government and the mainland press.

中华人民共和国领导人最终通过重新分配物资,阻止了红卫兵运动发展壮大. 此前,红卫兵曾扰乱香港的物资供应. 此外,他们还抵制了红卫兵推翻香港资本主义和殖民制度的号召. 中国政府从一开始就密切关注事态发展,并逐渐对左翼的策略提出批评. 政府对香港一些知名左翼人士奢靡的生活方式感到不满. （一位共产党领导人曾乘坐专职司机驾驶的奔驰车抵达政府大楼参加抗议活动. ）中国政府还发现,香港左翼人士夸大甚至捏造警察暴行,并夸大当地民众对左翼的支持,这令政府感到愤怒. 抗英斗争委员会的一位领导人叛逃台湾,令左翼人士和中国政府都感到难堪. 毛泽东主席的妻子江青抱怨说,原本应该把给委员会的现金用于在香港学校推广红卫兵的活动. 委员会为庆祝10月1日而举办的盛大晚宴也招致了中国政府和大陆媒体的广泛批评.

Conflicts still occurred, however, both in the urban areas of Hong Kong and Kowloon and along the Chinese border.

In late September, two Hong Kong Chinese police constables 警员；警官 were abducted 绑架；劫持, to be released only in late November in return for 作为某物的交换 five mainlanders 后定说明 arrested by the Hong Kong police.

Example 35. 案例
constable

→ 来自拉丁短语comes stabuli, 管马的官员。comes, 词源同count, 伯爵，stable,马厩。后来词义发生了变化。比较marshal, 将军，原指管马的官员。

英 / ˈkʌnstəbl /　美 / ˈkɑːnstəbl /　全球发音

简明　牛津　新牛津　韦氏　柯林斯　例句

con·stable n. /ˈkʌnstəbl/

( used especially when talking to a police officer of the lowest rank与最低级别的警察谈话时用 )

= police constable

• Have you finished your report, Constable?警察，你的报告完成了吗？

——see also chief constable

In mid-October a British police officer was abducted 绑架；劫持, although he managed to escape back into Hong Kong a month later (leading some observers 观察者；观察员 to suspect (v.) that he had been released in a prisoner exchange).

The arrival on October 13 of Lord Shepherd, British minister of state 国务大臣 for Commonwealth 英联邦 affairs, prompted a new wave of violence.

10月13日，英国联邦事务国务大臣谢泼德勋爵（Lord Shepherd）的到来，引发了新一轮的暴力浪潮。

Still, bomb reports (n.) were down by December, and the unrest had generally fizzled（火等）发出嘶嘶声 out 逐渐消失；平息；终止 by January 1968.

尽管如此，到12月，炸弹袭击的报告减少了，到1968年1月，骚乱基本上已经平息。

Example 36. 案例

Conflicts still occurred, however, both in the urban areas of Hong Kong and Kowloon and along the Chinese border.
In late September, two Hong Kong Chinese police constables were abducted, to be released only in late November in return for five mainlanders arrested by the Hong Kong police.
In mid-October a British police officer was abducted, although he managed to escape back into Hong Kong a month later (leading some observers to suspect that he had been released in a prisoner exchange).
The arrival on October 13 of Lord Shepherd, British minister of state for Commonwealth affairs, prompted a new wave of violence.
Still, bomb reports were down by December, and the unrest had generally fizzled out by January 1968.

然而,冲突依然时有发生,无论是在香港和九龙的城区,还是在中国内地边境. 9月下旬,两名香港警员被绑架,直到11月下旬才获释,作为交换,香港警方逮捕了五名内地人. 10月中旬,一名英国警员被绑架,但一个月后他成功逃脱并返回香港（一些观察人士怀疑他是在一次换囚行动中获释的）. 10月13日,英国联邦事务国务大臣谢泼德勋爵的到来引发了新一轮暴力冲突. 不过,到12月,爆炸案报告有所减少,到1968年1月,动乱基本平息.

It is not hard to see why the leftists never found widespread local support for their cause, especially among a population that included so many people who had fled the Communist government in China /and who viewed the Cultural Revolution with horror and revulsion 强烈的厌恶；憎恶.

Example 37. 案例

revulsion

→ 来自拉丁语 revellere,拉掉，拔起，来自 re-,向后，离开，vellere,拉，拔，词源同 vulture(秃鹫，兀鹫),wool.-s, 过去分词格。后用于心理含义指嫌恶，恶心。

英 /rɪˈvʌlʃ(ə)n/ 美 /rɪˈvʌlʃ(ə)n/ 全球发音

简明 牛津 新牛津 韦氏 柯林斯 例句

re·vul·sion n. /rɪˈvʌlʃn/

[ U , sing. ]

~ (at/against/from sth) ( formal ) a strong feeling of disgust or horror嫌恶；恶心；惊恐

SYN repugnance

- She felt a deep sense of revulsion at the violence.她对这一暴行深恶痛绝。
- I started to feel a revulsion against their decadent lifestyle.我对他们那腐朽的生活方式开始感到厌恶。
- Most people viewed the bombings with revulsion .大多数人对爆炸事件表现出惊恐不安。

——see also revolt

Although some young people participated because of the way 后定说明 they had been treated by the police in the 1966 riots, the leftists failed to obtain widespread support from students.

The Federation 联邦；同盟；联盟;（俱乐部、工会等的）联合会 of Students called for an end to the violence, and the University of Hong Kong Students' Union sent the government a message of support.

Many community organizations, professional associations 专业协会, and schools 谓 expressed (v.) their support, while scores of 许多，大量 local people joined the Hong Kong Auxiliary (a.)辅助的；备用的，后备的 Police Force.

Whereas the left-wing Chinese press supported the disturbances 骚乱；动乱 as the natural, heroic, patriotic reactions of an oppressed 受压制的，受压迫的 people, other Chinese newspapers called for people to stay out of the disturbances.

Letters to the editor in both Chinese and English newspapers often called for the government to take stronger measures 采取强有力的措施 but also appealed for 恳求，请求；要求 an end to the disturbances /and suggested ways of conciliation 调解；和解.

在写给中文和英文报纸编辑的信中，经常呼吁政府采取更强硬的措施，但也呼吁结束骚乱，并提出和解的方法。

The disruption pushed many people to support the colonial government, while the leftists' violent tactics made the police look like heroes —even when they attacked rioters with tear gas and clubs 警棍；棍棒 and arrested and imprisoned teenagers.

这种混乱促使许多人支持殖民政府，而左派的暴力策略，使警察看起来像英雄——即使他们用催泪瓦斯和棍棒攻击暴徒，逮捕和监禁青少年。

(主 The fact that an American television station caught (v.) on film 拍摄到 宾 a group of young protesters 宾补 “bloodying” (v.)使…流血；使…沾满血 their heads with Mercurochrome 红汞，红药水 /just before the police in antiriot gear 防暴装备 approached (v.)接近 them /谓 did not endear (v.)使受喜爱；使讨人喜欢 the leftists to the population at large.)

一家美国电视台拍摄到，一群年轻抗议者在防暴警察逼近前，用红药水 “伪造” 头部血迹，这一事实让左翼人士在普通民众心中好感尽失。

Example 38. 案例

```
【主句】 The fact that... did not endear the leftists to the population at lar
│
├─ 主语：The fact
│  │
│  └─ 【同位语从句】 that an American television station caught on film a group
│  │
│  ├─ 引导词：that
│  ├─ 主语：an American television station
│  ├─ 谓语：caught on film
│  ├─ 宾语：a group of young protesters
│  │
│  ├─ 【宾语补足语】 “bloodying” their heads
│  （现在分词短语，描述 protesters 被拍到时的动作）
│  │
│  ├─ 方式状语：with Mercurochrome
│  │
│  └─ 【时间状语从句】 just before the police in antiriot gear approached them
│  │
│  ├─ 连接词：just before
│  ├─ 主语：the police
│  │  │
│  │  └─ 【后置定语】 in antiriot gear
│  ├─ 谓语：approached
│  │
│  └─ 宾语：them
│
├─ 谓语：did not endear
├─ 间接宾语：the leftists
│
└─ 状语：to the population at large
```

The fact that an American television station caught on film a group of young protesters “bloodying” their heads with Mercurochrome just before the police in antiriot gear approached them did not endear the leftists to the population at large.

| Header 1 | Header 2 |
| --- | --- |
| an American television station caught on film … | catch on film 是固定短语，意为“拍摄到、用镜头捕捉到”。 |
| a group of young protesters “bloodying” their heads with Mercurochrome | • “bloodying” their heads：bloody此处是动词，意为“使…出血/染血”。引号表示这是报道中的用词或强调其“所谓”的出血。应译为“‘弄出血’/‘染红’他们的头”。• Mercurochrome：是特定药品“红药水”（汞溴红） |

| Header 1 | Header 2 |
| --- | --- |
| ...did not endear (v.) the leftists to the population at large. | • did not endear ... to ... ： endear是“使受钟爱、使受欢迎” ，这个短语意思是“并未赢得...对...的好感” 。• the population at large：固定短语，意为“广大民众、普通大众” 。 |

endear

→ From en- + dear.

英 /ɪnˈdɪə(r)/ 美 /ɪnˈdɪr/ 全球发音

简明 牛津 新牛津 韦氏 柯林斯 例句

en·dear v. /ɪnˈdɪə(r)/

[ VN ]

PHRASAL VERBS 短语动词

1. EN'DEAR SB/YOURSELF TO SB

to make sb/yourself popular使受欢迎（或喜爱、爱慕）

- Their policies on taxation didn't endear them to voters.他们的税收政策并没使他们受到选民的欢迎。
- She was a talented teacher who endeared herself to all who worked with her.她是一位深受同事喜爱的有才华的教师。

Mercurochrome

Mercuro- (词根) 来源：来自拉丁语 mercurius，意为“汞、水银” 。
化学指代：指代其有效成分中的汞 (Hg) 元素。这表明该药品含有汞化合物（具体是汞溴红，一种有机汞化合物），具有消毒防腐作用，但也因此有潜在的毒性。

-chrome (词根/词缀)
来源：来自希腊语 chrōma，意为“颜色” 。 含义：指代其鲜艳的红色。这是该药品最显著的外观特征。

直译：汞红 或 汞色剂。

For its loyal service, in 1969 Queen Elizabeth renamed the police force the Royal Hong Kong Police Force.

Example 39. 案例

It is not hard to see why the leftists never found widespread local support for their cause, especially among a population that included so many people who had fled the Communist government in China and who viewed the Cultural Revolution with horror and revulsion.
Although some young people participated because of the way they had been treated by the police in the 1966 riots, the leftists failed to obtain widespread support from students. The Federation of Students called for an end to the violence, and the University of Hong Kong Students' Union sent the government a message of support.
Many community organizations, professional associations, and schools expressed their support, while scores of local people joined the Hong Kong Auxiliary Police Force.
Whereas the left-wing Chinese press supported the disturbances as the natural, heroic, patriotic reactions of an oppressed people, other Chinese newspapers called for people to stay out of the disturbances.

Letters to the editor in both Chinese and English newspapers often called for the government to take stronger measures but also appealed for an end to the disturbances and suggested ways of conciliation.
The disruption pushed many people to support the colonial government, while the leftists' violent tactics made the police look like heroes—even when they attacked rioters with tear gas and clubs and arrested and imprisoned teenagers.
(The fact that an American television station caught on film a group of young protesters "bloodying" their heads with Mercurochrome just before the police in antiriot gear approached them did not endear the leftists to the population at large.) For its loyal service, in 1969 Queen Elizabeth renamed the police force the Royal Hong Kong Police Force.

不难理解为何左翼人士始终未能获得广泛的本地支持,尤其是在香港这样人口众多、其中不乏逃离中共政权、对文化大革命充满恐惧和厌恶之人的地区. 尽管一些年轻人因在1966年骚乱中遭受警察不公对待而参与其中,但左翼人士未能获得学生群体的广泛支持. 香港学生联合会呼吁停止暴力,香港大学学生会也向政府表达了支持. 许多社区组织、专业协会和学校也表达了支持,同时还有大量本地居民加入了香港辅警部队. 尽管左翼中文媒体支持这些骚乱,认为这是受压迫人民的自然、英勇和爱国反应,但其他一些中文报纸则呼吁民众远离骚乱. 无论是中文报纸还是英文报纸,读者来信中都常常呼吁政府采取更强硬的措施,但也呼吁停止骚乱,并提出了和解方案. 这场骚乱促使许多人支持殖民政府,而左翼分子的暴力手段反而让警察看起来像英雄——即便他们用催泪瓦斯和警棍袭击暴徒,逮捕并监禁青少年.（美国电视台拍到一群年轻示威者在防暴警察靠近前用红汞颜料涂抹头部,这一幕并没有让左翼分子赢得广大民众的好感.）为了表彰其忠诚服务,伊丽莎白女王于1969年将警队更名为皇家香港警队.

The 1967 disturbances had several important effects on Hong Kong.

Although the local Communist movement did not recover until the 1980s, the government's treatment of the rioters 谓 strengthened (v.) the pro-Beijing convictions 信念；信仰 of people such as Tsang Yok Sing, whose teenage brother and sister had been arrested and imprisoned —he for printing and distributing leaflets 传单；小册子, she simply for misbehaving (v.)行为不当；不守规矩 at school.

Tsang recalls 回忆；回想 many of the rioters as being "simple workers who had been oppressed 压迫；欺压 all their lives" and the government as responding to the riots in a "very high-handed 高压的；专横的, colonial manner."

Tsang was shunned 被避开；回避 at his university after the riots, but he found "lots of warm friendship 友谊，朋友关系, comradeship 同志情谊；友谊, and sympathy 同情；赞同 in the leftist circle."

骚乱事件发生后，曾在大学里遭到排挤，但他在左翼圈子里收获了"许多真挚的情谊、同志般的友爱与同情"。

Example 40. 案例
shun

→ 来自古英语 scunian,逃避，避免，隐藏，词源不详。可能最终来自 PIE*skeu,隐藏，遮蔽，词 源同 hide,shame.

英 /ʃʌn/ 美 /ʃʌn/ 全球发音

简明 牛津 新牛津 韦氏 柯林斯 例句 百科

shun v. /ʃʌn/

( -nn- )

[ VN ] to avoid sb/sth避开；回避；避免

- She was shunned by her family when she remarried.她再婚后家里人都躲着她。
- an actor who shuns publicity一个避免引起公众注意的演员

He later became principal 校长 at one of Hong Kong’s leftist Chinese schools /and in 1992 founded (v.) the pro-Beijing Democratic Alliance for Betterment (n.)改善；改进 of Hong Kong.

His brother, Tsang Tak Sing, worked for one of the pro-Beijing daily newspapers in Hong Kong.

Example 41. 案例

The 1967 disturbances had several important effects on Hong Kong.
Although the local Communist movement did not recover until the 1980s, the government’s treatment of the rioters strengthened the pro-Beijing convictions of people such as Tsang Yok Sing, whose teenage brother and sister had been arrested and imprisoned—he for printing and distributing leaflets, she simply for misbehaving at school.
Tsang recalls many of the rioters as being “simple workers who had been oppressed all their lives” and the government as responding to the riots in a “very high-handed, colonial manner.” Tsang was shunned at his university after the riots, but he found “lots of warm friendship, comradeship, and sympathy in the leftist circle.” 19 He later became principal at one of Hong Kong’s leftist Chinese schools and in 1992 founded the pro-Beijing Democratic Alliance for Betterment of Hong Kong.
His brother, Tsang Tak Sing, worked for one of the pro-Beijing daily newspapers in Hong Kong.

1967 年的骚乱对香港产生了诸多重要影响. 尽管香港的共产党运动直到 20 世纪 80 年代才得以恢复,但政府对暴乱者的处置却强化了曾耀星等人的亲北京信念. 曾耀星的弟弟和妹妹当时都是十几岁的少年,他们被捕入狱——弟弟是因为印发传单,妹妹则仅仅是因为在学校行为不端. 曾耀星回忆说,许多暴乱者都是“一生饱受压迫的普通工人”,而政府对骚乱的回应则是“极其专横跋扈、殖民主义式的”. 骚乱后,曾耀星在大学里遭到排斥,但他却在左翼圈子里找到了“许多温暖的友谊、同志情谊和同情”. 19 他后来成为香港一所左翼中文学校的校长,并在 1992 年创立了亲北京的香港民主复兴联. 他的哥哥曾德星曾在香港一家亲北京的日报社工作.

For the majority of Hong Kong people, however, the disturbances gave the government new popularity 流行，普及，受欢迎 and legitimacy 合法性；合理性；正统性.

The 1967 riots seemed to be proof (n.)证明，证据 that life in Hong Kong was better than on the mainland /and that the people in Hong Kong had little to gain from any sort of anti-British campaign.

Example 42. 案例
我问: 这里为什么是 to be proof that 而不是 to proof that ?

► DeepSeek:

| Header 1 | Header 2 |
|---|---|
| | 原因在于 proof在此是名词，而不是动词。seemed to be：是“似乎 是”的意思。后面接表语. |
| 为什么不能用 to proof (v.) ? | proof也可以作动词，意思是“使防水；检验；校对”。如果用 to proof，在语法上意味着 proof是不定式动词，这会导致： 语义错误：seemed to proof that...会变成“似乎 去防水/去检验 某事”，这与“似乎是证据”的意思完全不符。 语法怪异：that从句无法直接跟在动词 proof后面构成合理的动宾关系。 |

David Faure, who was then a student at the University of Hong Kong, writes that "the riots of 1967 were the first taste 首次尝试 of open action 公开行动的 directed against an established government 既定政府；已确立的政府, but for many, the demonstration 游行，示威, the bombs, and the occasional riot, confirmed what they were learning in the press of the excesses (n.)放肆行为；越轨行为;过度行为；暴行；放纵之举 of the Cultural Revolution."

当时还是香港大学学生的 David Faure 写道：“1967 年的骚乱, 是民众首次公开对抗既定政府的行动，但对许多人而言，示威游行、炸弹袭击与零星暴乱，印证了他们从媒体上了解到的‘文化大革命’的种种过激行径。”

Forced to choose between the PRC and Hong Kong, most people in Hong Kong identified with 与某人产生共鸣；谅解；同情 the colonial regime (n.)（尤指独裁的）政府，政权;管理制度，组织方法 as their government.

At the same time, they increasingly saw themselves as members of a special community, separate (v.) both from the colonial government and from their compatriots 同胞；同国人 on the mainland.

Example 43. 案例

For the majority of Hong Kong people, however, the disturbances gave the government new popularity and legitimacy.
The 1967 riots seemed to be proof that life in Hong Kong was better than on the mainland and that the people in Hong Kong had little to gain from any sort of anti-British campaign.
David Faure, who was then a student at the University of Hong Kong, writes that “the riots of 1967 were the first taste of open action directed against an established government, but for many, the demonstration, the bombs, and the occasional riot, confirmed what they were learning in the press of the excesses of the Cultural Revolution.” 20 Forced to choose between the PRC and Hong Kong, most people in Hong Kong identified with the colonial regime as their government.
At the same time, they increasingly saw themselves as members of a special community, separate both from the colonial government and from their compatriots on the mainland.

然而,对大多数香港人来说,这些骚乱反而提升了政府的民意支持率和合法性. 1967 年的暴动似乎证明,香港的生活比大陆更好,香港人从任何反英运动中都得不到什么好处. 当时就读于香港大学的戴维·福尔写道：“1967 年的暴动是人们首次公开反对既定政府,但对许多人来说,示威、炸弹和零星的骚乱印证了他们从报刊上了解到的文化大革命的种种暴行.” 20 被迫在中华人民共和国和香港之间做

出选择,大多数香港人认同殖民政权是他们的政府. 与此同时,他们越来越觉得自己是一个特殊群体的成员,既与殖民政府有所区别,也与大陆的同胞有所区别.

The disturbances also prompted (v.) demands in Britain and Hong Kong for the colonial government to improve labor relations, foster 培养；促进 a sense of belonging 归属感, improve communication between government and people, and expand education— not in the least 绝非、一点也不、完全不 so that youths would not be so vulnerable 易受影响的；易受害的 to political indoctrination 思想灌输；教化.

扩大教育——其重要目的之一（或者说，绝非不重要的一个目的）正是为了让青年人不易受到政治灌输。

Example 44. 案例
not in the least so that...(完全是为了...不...)

直译：绝非不重要的目的是：为了让青年人不那么容易受到政治灌输。即: 绝不是为了让青年人不那么容易被灌输

这个短语在这里的精确含义是："（扩大教育的目的）尤其是/特别是为了..." 或 "这绝非一个微不足道的目的，即：为了让青年人不那么..."。

这个目的 (so that...) 极其重要，绝不是次要的。

| Header 1 | Header 2 |
|---|---|
| not in the least | 表示"一点也不、完全不"。• I am not in the least interested (a.) in his excuses. 我 一点也不 对他的借口感兴趣。• The news did not surprise me in the least. 这个消息 完全没有 让我感到惊讶。注意：这种用法相对书面且正式，在口语中更常用 especially 或 particularly 来替代 not in the least 的这种强调功能。 |
| not in the least so that... (引导目的) | 通常出现在"目的状语"的语境中，结构为 ... not in the least so that + 从句。这里的 not in the least 修饰的是 so that引导的整个目的从句，意为"绝非不重要的一个目的是..."或"尤其是为了..."，通过强烈的否定来反向强调该目的的重要性。• The government invested (v.) heavily in public infrastructure, not in the least so that the economy could be revitalized. 政府大力投资公共基础设施，绝非不重要的一个目的是为了重振经济。（强调"重振经济"是核心目的之一）• The company implemented (v.) strict security protocols, not in the least so that customer data would be protected from breaches. 公司实施了严格的安全协议，尤其是为了保护客户数据免遭泄露。（强调"保护数据"是首要目的） |

The local press 新闻界；媒体 expressed concern (n.) that the Emergency Regulations 紧急法令 might be continued /and criticism (n.) of the Labour Department 劳工处 for not being able to intervene in labor disputes 劳资纠纷；劳动争议.

当地媒体对《紧急条例》可能会被延续表示担忧，并批评劳工处未能介入劳资纠纷。

Questions arose (v.) about how to deal with the arrested leftists: many residents wanted the death penalty 死刑 for those involved in the bombings, but others argued that many of the activists 激进分子；活动人士 were young and had been misguided 误导；使误入歧途 by committee leaders who had walked away scot(税赋，税金)-free (a.)(不受处罚的；无伤的；平安的) 安然脱身；未受惩罚.

Example 45. 案例

scot-free

英 / ˌskɒt ˈfriː / 美 / ˌskɑːt ˈfriː / 全球发音

简明 牛津 新牛津 韦氏 柯林斯 例句 百科

ˌscot-ˈfree adv.

( informal ) without receiving the punishment you deserve逃脱惩罚；逍遥法外

- They got off scot-free because of lack of evidence.由于证据不足，他们得以逍遥法外。

ORIGIN 词源

This idiom comes from the old English word 'scot' meaning 'tax'. People were scot-free if they didn't have to pay the tax.本习语源自古英语scot一词，意为赋税。scot-free表示无须纳税。

Some of the convicted 证明有罪的；已被判刑的;已定罪的 defendants 被告 received very stiff 严厉的 punishments.

For example, a fourteen-year-old boy received four years for carrying a bomb, and a fifty-four-year-old man was given five years for participating in a riot in Sha Tau Kok.

Example 46. 案例

The disturbances also prompted demands in Britain and Hong Kong for the colonial government to improve labor relations, foster a sense of belonging, improve communication between government and people, and expand education—not in the least so that youths would not be so vulnerable to political indoctrination.
The local press expressed concern that the Emergency Regulations might be continued and criticism of the Labour Department for not being able to intervene in labor disputes.
Questions arose about how to deal with the arrested leftists: many residents wanted the death penalty for those involved in the bombings, but others argued that many of the activists were young and had been misguided by committee leaders who had walked away scot-free.
Some of the convicted defendants received very stiff punishments.
For example, a fourteen-year-old boy received four years for carrying a bomb, and a fifty-four-year-old man was given five years for participating in a riot in Sha Tau Kok.

这些骚乱也促使英国和香港民众要求殖民政府改善劳资关系、增强民众归属感、加强政府与民众沟通并扩大教育规模——尤其要避免青少年更容易受到政治灌输的影响. 当地媒体担忧《紧急规例》可能会继续实施,并批评劳工处未能介入劳资纠纷. 如何处置被捕的左翼人士也引发了争议：许多居民希望对参与爆炸案的人判处死刑,但也有人认为,许多活动人士年纪尚轻,受到了委员会领导人的误导,而这些领导人却逍遥法外. 一些被告被判处重刑. 例如,一名14岁男孩因携带炸弹被判处4年监禁,一名54岁男子因参与沙头角暴乱被判处5年监禁.

Governor Trench’s administration 行政部门；管理机构 had shown that it would not tolerate such disturbances, but it also realized 意识到，认识到 that it needed to “close the gap” 缩小差距 between government and people.

This resulted in 导致，造成 several administrative 行政的 changes designed to reduce the political alienation 疏远；疏离感 of Hong Kong’s population and to help prevent (v.) further disturbances.

主 The City District Officer system, based on the District Officer program used in the New Territories since the early 1900s, 谓 appointed district officers to mediate 调解；斡旋 between government and people.

城市区政官制度（该制度是基于自1900年代起在新界使用的区政官项目），任命区政官在政府与人民之间进行调解。

Example 47. 案例
我问: 这里City District Officer system 怎么翻译才好? 城市区域官员制度?

DeepSeek:

“City District Officer system” 的翻译需要兼顾历史背景、实际职能和中文行政术语习惯。

- 职能核心：District Officer 的核心职责是 mediate between government and people（在政府与民众间进行调解），这本质上是基层民政、政务和社区联络工作。译为“政务主任”或“民政主任”能准确体现其“官员”身份, 和“行政协调、为民服务”的职能。
- 历史沿袭：该系统基于新界自1900年代初实行的 District Officer program，而新界的“理民府”（District Office）及其长官“理民官”（District Officer）是历史上公认的译法。在市区推行类似制度，译为“政务/民政主任”能与新界的“理民官”形成功能和级别上的呼应，体现制度的延续性。
- 系统与制度：system指的是一套制度化的安排和体系，而不仅仅是一个“办公系统”。译为“制度”更符合中文里对这类常设性行政机制的描述（如“户籍制度”、“信访制度”）。
- 中文习惯：在中文行政语境中，负责特定区域、协调官民关系的官员, 常被称为“××主任”、“××专员”或“××干事”。
  “政务主任”是香港公务员体系中的一个实际职系名称，用来翻译此处的 District Officer 非常贴切。
- 综合建议：在学术或历史著作中，“民政主任制度” 是最佳选择，因为它用词精准、专业且符合语境。如果想在译名中保留地理信息，可以使用“市区分区政务主任制度”。

These officers were to “assist (v.) those suffering from a sense of grievance 不满；委屈；冤情 to present (v.)提出，陈述 their cases coherently 连贯地；条理清晰地 and, when necessary, to act as their advocate 辩护人；支持者.”

这些官员旨在 “帮助那些心怀不满的人有条理地陈述案情，并在必要时担任他们的代言人。

Public relations within government departments were improved /and various advisory 咨询的；顾问的 committees expanded, while unofficial members of the Legislative and Executive Councils were given larger roles.

By renaming 给…重新取名，改名 the position of Secretary for Chinese Affairs as the Secretary 秘书；干事；部长，大臣 for Home Affairs 内政 in 1969, the government admitted that the overwhelming 压倒性的；绝大多数的 majority of Hong Kong’s population could not be treated as a distinct 有区别的,独特的；不同的 group.

The government also made plans for compulsory (a.)强制的；义务的 free public education and more social welfare and labor legislation 法律；法规 (for example, in 1970 a mandatory 强制的；法定的 weekly day off 休息日 was finally introduced).

Although many of these reforms would not be implemented 实施；执行 until the early 1970s under Trench’s successor (继任者；接班人)在…的领导下/任内, Murray MacLehose 麦理浩, “1967 marked (v.) a crucial 至关重要的；决定性的 turning point in the development of the colonial regime’s irreversible 不可逆转的 awareness of and irrevocable 不可撤销的；不能改变的 commitment to a more conscientious 认真负责的；尽责的 and responsive 反应积极的；体恤民情的 social policy with greater care and concern for the grass-roots (a.)基层的 community.”

尽管其中的许多改革要到1970年代早期 (这个早期是) 在戴麟趾的继任者麦理浩任内才会落实 (这个落实是)，“但1967年标志了殖民政权发展中的一个关键转折点 (这个转折点是) 对一种更审慎和更积极回应的社会政策 (这个政策是) 怀着更多对草根社区的关怀与关切的，有了不可逆转的认知和不可撤销的承诺”。

Example 48. 案例

```
【让步状语从句】 Although many of these reforms would not be implemented until
 │
 ├─ 从属连词：Although
 ├─ 主语：many of these reforms
 ├─ 谓语：would not be implemented
 │
 ├─ 时间状语1：until the early 1970s
 │
 └─ 时间状语2：under Trench’s successor, Murray MacLehose
（介词短语，具体说明时间段）
 │
 ├─ 核心名词：Trench’s successor
 └─ 【同位语】 , Murray MacLehose

【主句（直接引语）】 “1967 marked a crucial turning point in the development of
 │
 ├─ 主语：“1967
 ├─ 谓语：marked
 ├─ 宾语：a crucial turning point
 │  │
 │  └─ 【后置定语1】 in the development
 │  │
 │  └─ 【后置定语2】 of the colonial regime’s irreversible awareness and irrevoc
 │ （这个长定语修饰 the development，说明发展的内容）
 │  │
 │  ├─ 核心名词1：irreversible awareness
 │  ├─ 并列连词：and
 │  ├─ 核心名词2：irrevocable commitment
 │  │
 │  └─ 【共同后置定语】 to a more conscientious and responsive social policy
 │ （to 引导的介词短语，修饰 awareness 和 commitment）
 │  │
 │  └─ 【状语】 with greater care and concern for the grass-roots community
 │ （with 引导的介词短语，作伴随/方式状语，修饰 social policy）
```

Although many of these reforms would not be implemented until the early 1970s under Trench’s successor, Murray MacLehose, “1967 marked a crucial turning point in the development of the colonial regime’s irreversible awareness of and irrevocable commitment to a more conscientious and responsive social policy with greater care and concern for the grass-roots community.”

- irreversible awareness：irreversible是“不可逆的、不可改变的”，awareness是“意识、认识”。合起来是“一旦形成便无法回头/无法抹去的认识”。
- irrevocable commitment：irrevocable是“不可撤销的、最终的”，commitment是“承诺、保证”。合起来是“板上钉钉、不容反悔的承诺”。
- a more conscientious and responsive social policy：conscientious形容政策是“本着良心/责任感的、审慎的”，responsive形容政策是“能及时回应民意的、积极的”。
- with greater care and concern for：with表示“带有、具有”，care and concern是“关怀与关切”。

---

the colonial regime’s irreversible awareness of and irrevocable commitment to a more conscientious and responsive social policy...

我问: 这里 the colonial regime’s irreversible awareness of and irrevocable commitment to 中的 awareness 后面的of 是否多余?

► DeepSeek:

这里 irreversible awareness of ... 和 irrevocable commitment to... 实际上是两个并列的名词短语, 共享了同一个宾语（a more conscientious and responsive social policy）。

如果将其完整展开，应该是：
- irreversible awareness of a more conscientious and responsive social policy
- irrevocable commitment to a more conscientious and responsive social policy

```
awareness (of X) and commitment (to X)
 ↑ ↑
 | |
 共享同一个宾语 X (即 social policy)
```

如果去掉 of，句子会变成：
the colonial regime’s irreversible awareness and irrevocable commitment to...

这会导致语法歧义。在英语中，awareness和 commitment都是抽象名词，它们通常需要介词（of或 to）来连接其具体对象。去掉 of后，读者在解析时可能会误以为 awareness直接与 commitment并列，而 to只修饰 commitment，即：

误读：(awareness) and (commitment to X) → 对 X 的承诺，以及（某种）认知。
正解：(awareness of X) and (commitment to X) → 对 X 的认知和对 X 的承诺。

保留 of是为了明确告知读者：awareness后面也省略了一个宾语，这个宾语与 commitment to后面的宾语是同一个东西。

of是 awareness的固定搭配介词（awareness of sth），在此处必须保留以维持并列结构的语法正确性。

又例:

- The government showed respect for and adherence (n.)（尤指对规则、信念等的）遵守，坚持 to the rule of law.（政府表现出对法治的尊重和遵守。）
- He has a deep understanding of and passion (n.) for classical music.（他对古典音乐有着深刻的理解和热爱。）
- The study focuses on the causes of and solutions to urban pollution.（该研究关注城市污染的成因和解决方案。）

Hong Kong would not experience serious civil unrest 民众动乱；社会动荡 again until January 1984, when taxi drivers rioted (v.)暴动；闹事 briefly in Mongkok 香港旺角, in Kowloon.

Example 49. 案例

Governor Trench’s administration had shown that it would not tolerate such disturbances, but it also realized that it needed to “close the gap” between government and people.
This resulted in several administrative changes designed to reduce the political alienation of Hong Kong’s population and to help prevent further disturbances.
The City District Officer system, based on the District Officer program used in the New Territories since the early 1900s, appointed district officers to mediate between government and people.
These officers were to “assist those suffering from a sense of grievance to present their cases coherently and, when necessary, to act as their advocate.” 21 Public relations within government departments were improved and various advisory committees expanded, while unofficial members of the Legislative and Executive Councils were given larger roles.
By renaming the position of Secretary for Chinese Affairs as the Secretary for Home Affairs in 1969, the government admitted that the overwhelming majority of Hong Kong’s population could not be treated as a distinct group.
The government also made plans for compulsory free public education and more social welfare and labor legislation (for example, in 1970 a mandatory weekly day off was finally introduced).
Although many of these reforms would not be implemented until the early 1970s under Trench’s successor, Murray MacLehose, “1967 marked a crucial turning point in the development of the colonial regime’s irreversible awareness of and irrevocable commitment to a more conscientious and responsive social policy with greater care and concern for the grass-roots community.” 22 Hong Kong would not experience serious civil unrest again until January 1984, when taxi drivers rioted briefly in Mongkok, in Kowloon.

特伦奇总督的政府已表明其不容忍此类骚乱,但也意识到需要“弥合”政府与民众之间的鸿沟. 这促成了一系列旨在减少香港民众政治疏离感并防止进一步骚乱的行政改革. 以新界自 20 世纪初以来使用的区长制度为基础,设立了区长制度,任命区长在政府与民众之间进行调解. 这些区长“协助心怀不满者清晰地陈述案情,并在必要时为其辩护”. 21 政府部门内部的公共关系得到改善,各类咨询委员会规模扩大,立法会和行政会的非官方成员也被赋予了更大的权力. 1969 年,政府将中国事务局局长更名为民政事务局局长,这表明政府承认香港绝大多数民众不能被视为一个独立的群体. 政府还制定了义务免费公共教育计划,以及更多社会福利和劳动立法（例如,1970 年终于引入了每周一天的强制性休息日）. 尽管其中许多改革直到 20 世纪 70 年代初特伦奇的继任者默里·麦克莱霍斯执政时期才得以实施,但“1967 年标志着殖民政权发展历程中一个关键的转折点,它不可逆转地意识到并坚定地致力于制定一项更加负责任、更贴近基层社区的社会政策.” “22 香港直到 1984 年 1 月才再次发生严重的社会动荡,当时旺角的出租车司机发生了短暂的骚乱. 在九龙.

However, the 1967 disturbances effectively shelved (v.)搁置；暂缓 Trench’s plans for constitutional reforms 宪法改革.

After talk in Britain about expanding (v.) political representation 代表权；代表制度 in Hong Kong, in 1964 Trench, who had arrived that year intent (v.)专心；专注 on political reform, had established a committee to consider the possibility of an elected Legislative Council 立法会.

Example 50. 案例
intent

→ in-朝,向 + -tent-延伸

英 /ɪnˈtent/ 美 /ɪnˈtent/ 全球发音

简明 牛津 新牛津 韦氏 柯林斯 例句 百科

adj. n.

in·tent /ɪnˈtent/

1. showing strong interest and attention热切的；专注的
   - an intent gaze/look 专注的目光/神情
   - His eyes were suddenly intent.他的目光突然专注起来。
2. ~ on/upon sth | ~ on/upon doing sth (formal) determined to do sth, especially sth that will harm other people决心做（尤指伤害他人的事）
   - They were intent on murder.他们存心谋杀。
   - Are you intent upon destroying my reputation?你是不是存心要败坏我的名誉？
3. ~ on/upon sth giving all your attention to sth专心；专注
   - I was so intent on my work that I didn't notice the time.我专心工作，以致忘了时间。

DERIVATIVES 派生词

in·tent·ly adv
- She looked at him intently.她目不转睛地看着他。

以上来源于: 牛津词典

CET4 | CET6 | IELTS | TOEFL | GRE | GMAT

But in 1967 the British government announced that because of Hong Kong’s unique geographic and political status, an elected council 选举产生的议会 would be out of the question 不可能的,毫无可能的, especially given the turbulent 动荡的；混乱的 conditions in China and the tense Sino-British relations during the Cultural Revolution.

The buzzword 时髦术语；流行行话 now was “consultation 商讨，磋商,” using advisory committees 咨询委员会 rather than votes (n.) to reach a consensus 共识；一致意见.

当下的流行说法是“协商”，即通过咨询委员会而非投票来达成共识。

Justifying 证明…合理；为…辩护 Hong Kong’s lack of democracy, Trench argued in 1969 that “there is no one brand 类型 of politics, or one line 种类；类型 of policies, which is right for all places at all stages 在所有阶段 of development.”

戴麟趾在1969年提出，“没有哪一种政治模式或哪一套政策方针，能够适用于所有处于不同发展阶段的地区。”

Example 51. 案例

brand

(n.) a particular type or kind of sth 类型
• an unorthodox (a.)非正统的，非传统的 brand of humour 别具一格的幽默

line

line

21. [ C ]a route from one place to another especially when it is used for a particular purpose路线；路径；渠道
    - Their aim was to block guerrilla supply lines .他们的目的是封锁游击队的供给线。

ATTITUDE/ARGUMENT 态度；论点

22. [ C,usually sing. ]an attitude or a belief, especially one that sb states publicly（尤指公开表明的）态度，看法
    - The government is taking a firm line on terrorism.政府现在对恐怖主义采取强硬的态度。
    - He supported the official line on education.他支持官方的教育理念。

    ——see also hard line , party line

23. [ C ]a method or way of doing or thinking about sth方法；方式
    - I don't follow your line of reasoning .我不理解你的推理方法。
    - She decided to try a different line of argument (= way of persuading sb of sth) .她决定换一种说理方式。
    - sb's first line of attack/defence 某人进行抨击/辩护的第一着
    - The police are pursuing a new line of enquiry/inquiry (= way of finding out information) .警方正在实施一种新的调查方法。

ACTIVITY 活动

24. [ sing. ]a type or area of business, activity or interest行业；活动的范围
    - My line of work pays pretty well.我的职业报酬颇丰厚。
    - You can't do much in the art line without training.没经过训练，你在艺术行业是不会有多大作为的

    ——see also sidelinen. (1)

PRODUCT 产品

25. [ C ]a type of product种类；类型
    - We are starting a new line in casual clothes.我们将着手经营新款式的休闲装。
    - Some lines sell better than others.有些品种的货物销售得好些，有些则较差。

TRANSPORT 运输

英语中,brand 和 line 有区别吗?

► Gemini:

| Header 1 | Header 2 |
| --- | --- |
| Brand (品牌/标签): 这里的 brand 是商业术语在政治上的引申（Political Branding）。它侧重于整体形象、哲学理念或辨识度。当你提到一种 "brand of politics" 时，你是在谈论这一派政治力量的“调性”或“名号”（例如：自由主义、保守主义）。它涵盖了价值观、口号和选民对其的整体感知。 | Line (路线/方针): Line 更多源于组织内部的“政策口径”或“行动准则”（Official line）。它侧重于具体的立场、一系列连续的指令或逻辑逻辑链条。当你提到 "line of policies" 时，你是指在某一具体问题上（如税收、环保）所采取的一系列一贯的、有步骤的处理方式。 |
| 例:• I don’t like his brand of humor. (我不喜欢他那种风格的幽默。)→ 这里 brand 表示一种特有的风格。• The senator promotes (v.) a new brand of conservatism. (这位参议员推 | • The government is taking a hard line on crime. (政府在犯罪问题上，采取强硬立场。) → Take a hard line 是固定搭配，表示“采取严厉方针”。• What is the party line on climate change? (该党在气候变化问题上的 |

| Header 1 | Header 2 |
| --- | --- |
| 广一种新形式的保守主义。）→ 强调这是一个新的“流派”。 | 官方口径是什么？）→ Party line 指政党的官方统一立场。 |

想象你在一家咖啡馆：

- Brand 就像是“星巴克”还是“瑞幸”。你选的是这个店的“名号”和它代表的某种生活方式（政治倾向）。
- Line 就像是这家店“只卖深烘豆子”的规定。这是它具体的“做法”和“规矩”（具体政策路线）。

这句话的意思是：没有哪一种“政治招牌”或哪一条“政策路子”是放之四海而皆准的。

- "He has his own brand of leadership (领导风格), but he always follows the official line (官方路线) in public."

Example 52. 案例

However, the 1967 disturbances effectively shelved Trench’s plans for constitutional reforms.
After talk in Britain about expanding political representation in Hong Kong, in 1964 Trench, who had arrived that year intent on political reform, had established a committee to consider the possibility of an elected Legislative Council.
But in 1967 the British government announced that because of Hong Kong’s unique geographic and political status, an elected council would be out of the question, especially given the turbulent conditions in China and the tense Sino-British relations during the Cultural Revolution.
The buzzword now was “consultation,” using advisory committees rather than votes to reach a consensus.
Justifying Hong Kong’s lack of democracy, Trench argued in 1969 that “there is no one brand of politics, or one line of policies, which is right for all places at all stages of development.” 23

然而,1967 年的骚乱实际上搁置了特伦奇的宪政改革计划. 1964 年,特伦奇抵达香港,决心进行政治改革. 此前,英国曾讨论过扩大香港的政治代表权. 同年,他成立了一个委员会,探讨设立民选立法会的可能性. 但 1967 年,英国政府宣布,鉴于香港独特的地理和政治地位,设立民选立法会是不可能的,尤其是在当时中国局势动荡、文化大革命期间中英关系紧张的情况下. 如今的流行语是“咨询”,即通过咨询委员会而非投票来达成共识. 1969 年,特伦奇为香港缺乏民主辩护,他认为“没有一种政治模式或政策路线适用于所有地区和所有发展阶段”. 23

Nor should the government’s attempts to “close (v.) the gap” be exaggerated.

Although proposals were offered for an ombudsman 监察专员（专门负责调查人民对政府各部门控告案件的官员）；申诉专员 post (n.)职位；（尤指）要职 that would investigate (v.) complaints against maladministration 管理不善；行政失当, 主 such a post —the commissioner for administrative complaints 行政投诉 — 谓 would not materialize (v.)实现；成为现实 until 1989.

尽管有人提议设立监察专员一职，负责调查针对行政失当行为的投诉，但这一职位——即行政事务申诉专员——直到1989年才正式设立。

When the government introduced the Official Language Ordinance 法令；条例 in 1974 making Chinese an official language, it did so /mainly in response (n.) to demands (n.) from local activists.

1974年，政府颁布《官方语言条例》，将中文列为官方语言，此举主要是为了回应本地社会活动人士的诉求。

Government policy papers and internal documents 谓 continued to be written completely in English for another twenty years, while laws were not issued 颁布；发布 in Chinese until 1989.

As late as 直到,尽可能晚 1995, English was still the only language in the higher courts, and Chinese defendants 被告 still received summonses 传票；传唤令 in English.

Example 53. 案例

summons

→ sum-,在下，-mon,警告，词源同 monitor,admonish.即给予警告，后引申词义传唤，召唤等。

英 / ˈsʌmənz /　美 / ˈsʌmənz /　全球发音

简明　牛津　新牛津　韦氏　柯林斯　例句　百科

n.　v.

sum·mons /ˈsʌmənz/

( pl. sum·monses /-zɪz/ )

1. ( NAmE also also cit·ation ) an order to appear in court ( 法院的 ) 传唤，传票
   - to issue a summons against sb向某人发出传票
   - The police have been unable to serve a summons on him.警方一直无法把传票送达他本人。
   - She received a summons to appear in court the following week.她收到一张传票，让她下周出庭。
2. an order to come and see sb召唤；召见令
   - to obey a royal summons听从国王的召唤

Example 54. 案例

Nor should the government’s attempts to “close the gap” be exaggerated. Although proposals were offered for an ombudsman post that would investigate complaints against maladministration, such a post—the commissioner for administrative complaints—would not materialize until 1989.
When the government introduced the Official Language Ordinance in 1974 making Chinese an official language, it did so mainly in response to demands from local activists. Government policy papers and internal documents continued to be written completely in English for another twenty years, while laws were not issued in Chinese until 1989.
As late as 1995, English was still the only language in the higher courts, and Chinese defendants still received summonses in English.

政府为“缩小差距”所做的努力也不应被夸大. 尽管曾有人提议设立监察专员一职,负责调查针对行政不当行为的投诉,但直到1989年,这一职位——行政申诉专员——才得以设立. 1974年,政府颁布《官方语言条例》,将中文定为官方语言,这主要是应当地活动人士的要求. 此后二十年间,政府政策文件和内部文件仍然全部使用英文撰写,而法律直到1989年才开始以中文颁布. 直至1995年,英文仍然是高等法院的唯一语言,中国被告收到的传票也仍然是英文的.